Labor Committee to Try Sparking Agreements

Jobs Are Unmanned Two Weeks

Trades Respecting Laborers' Pickets

Vigorous efforts to advance negotiations between labor and contractors, now stymied for some two weeks with picketing in progress on construction throughout the county, will be made by a committee which was appointed this morning at a meeting of the Ulster-Sullivan counties Building Trades Council.

The council met with "full representation" of the various affiliated trades, it was reported, in Odd Fellows Hall, Broadway and Brewster Street.

Men on Committee

The following committee was appointed:

Thomas Mitchell, president of the council and business manager of Electricians Local 645; Stephen Gill, recording secretary of the council and business agent for Painters Local 215; David Dalton, financial secretary of the council and business agent for the Plumbers local, and Samuel Doyle, business agent for the Ironworkers local, and former president of the council.

The committee will bend all its efforts to mediate differences between the Ulster County General Contractors Association and Local 17, Laborers and Hod Carriers.

Started May 5

Picketing began May 5 on a number of projects in the area, including several schools, the Benedictine Hospital, New Paltz State Teachers College, etc.

Members of all building trades have respected picket lines.

Negotiations were in progress late last week but appeared to have reached an impasse.

Carpenter Deadline May 31

Meanwhile the negotiations deadline between contractors and Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters continues. With their contract expiring on May 31, negotiations have been going on since March without results. This contract covers carpenters of the 10 county Hudson Valley area.

A meeting is to be held again Wednesday morning and it is expected an international representative will be present. The New York State Mediation Board has also been asked to step in and give assistance in negotiating an agreement.

Carpenters will work under the existing contract to May 29, since there is usually no work on Memorial Day or on Saturday.

It was learned today that many local carpenters are employed on construction jobs outside Ulster County.

Work at Race Track

Approximately 150 carpenters have been employed on the Monticello race track, about 45 on an 11-story addition to Concord Hotel and a new night club ad.

Cut Trooper Hours: Civil Service Assn.

ALBANY, N. Y. — Working hours of state troopers should be cut immediately from a maximum 126 to 60 or 70 a week, the State Civil Service Assn. says.

The association made the proposal at a closed-door conference Monday with a three-member committee appointed by Gov. Harriman to inquire into trooper working conditions.

The committee issued no public comment. It includes William J. Murray, administrative director of the Civil Service Commission, Clark D. Ahlberg, state budget director, and Francis S. McGarvey, the state police superintendent.

Meanwhile, it was reported that troopers assigned to the Albany section of the Thruway had been ordered to work an additional eight hours a week.

Thruway troopers now spend 56 hours a week on patrol and 32 hours in ready reserve. The new schedule, posted Saturday, requires troopers in the Albany division to work 64 hours a week on the road and 24 in ready reserve.

The new duty includes 12-hour patrols Saturdays and 10-hour shifts on Fridays and Sundays.

John F. Powers, president of the Civil Service Employees Assn., said

Town Bingo Hearing Date In Saugerties Is June 2

A public hearing before Saugerties Town Board on the enactment of an ordinance legalizing bingo within the limits of the township will be held Monday, June 2, at 8 p. m. in Saugerties Municipal Auditorium.

The decision to set a public hearing date motivated by the petitions of six Saugerties organizations was made at a special Town Board meeting Monday afternoon in the Town Hall, according to Supervisor Peter M. Williams.

Organizations who petitioned the board were: Malden-West Camp Fire Company, Glasco Fire Company, Saugerties Youth Council, Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion, the senior parish organizations of St. John's Parish, Veteran, and the Auxiliary of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW.

Three Vote Approval

Three Ulster County villages—Ellenville, New Paltz and Rosendale—have approved bingo ordinances by special referendum. The Towns of Lloyd, Rosendale and Shandaken also approved bingo ordinances.

According to Louis P. Francello, attorney for the Town of Saugerties the proposed ordinance drafted by his office includes all the provisions of the regulations set forth by the State Lottery Commission.

Provision on Fees

The proposed ordinance provides that any authorized organization may file a written application on a prescribed form with the town clerk for a fee of $10 for each occasion, paid annually and in advance. Fees may be adjusted in accordance with the number of games actually conducted.

According to the general restrictions of the proposed ordinance, a single prize value was set at $250 and the aggregate of a series of prizes must not exceed $1,000.

To Study Licensing, Costs

Milk Control Changes Are Planned by State

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey today put New York milk distributors on notice that the state planned to change some of its milk-control policies.

Carey said Gov. Harriman had ordered him to undertake a thorough review of restrictions on licensing of milk dealers and of distribution costs and practices.

"We'll have to make some changes," Carey said, "but it is to the advantage of everyone to have the milk industry—both farmers and distributors—make reasonable returns."

Hints on Changes

Carey gave some hints of possible changes in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the New York State Milk Distributors Inc.

He said the agriculture department would hold a series of meetings throughout the state in the summer to look for "ways and means of changing regulations to meet the challenge of changes being forced upon the milk distribution industry."

To Study Dealing

Specifically, he continued, the department will seek opinion on ways of dealing with destructive competition, encouraging small distributors to stay in business, and stimulating sales and promotion of milk products.

He said the study also would ask whether any sales or promotion practices should be banned, whether new legislation was needed or whether the entire milk-control law should be rewritten.

May Not Be Large Enough

Milk dealers currently are licensed on a county basis. The commissioner has the power to restrict the number of dealers.

Carey said "some evidence has come to my attention that for maximum efficiency in plant operation the county unit may not be large enough."

Therefore, he continued, "it appears that we must have to give some consideration to special situations whereby there is need to allow the operations of one plant to extend over a considerably larger area."

The commissioner observed that several attempts have been made in the Legislature to force licensing of more dealers. Harriman has vetoed such bills.

Explains Aims

"We do not want destructive competition," Carey said, "nor do we want to proceed to a point where only a few of the largest and strongest distributors are left."

In a general review of the New York dairy industry, Carey noted that, while rising costs had forced many dairymen out of business, production continued to rise—largely because of improved techniques.

"It seems to me," he said, "that in the years ahead the dairy farmer and the milk-distribution business face a tremendous challenge to sell more milk."

May 29 Is Deadline

Only Three Apply To Take Test for Fire Department

Only three application forms have been issued at the city clerk's office for a June 21 civil service examination to establish an eligibility list for appointments to the fire department, it was learned today.

May 29 is the deadline for obtaining application forms. None of those obtained has been returned to the city clerk's office to date.

To Make Up List

No vacancies exist in the department, but the test is slated to establish an eligibility list for possible future use.

Three applications have been received and returned for the position of plumbing inspector for which an examination will be held June 14. The post is now

In case of rain, there will be a follow up night Wednesday, Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Naccarato of 83 Harwich Street. (Freeman photo).

More Democrats Speak Out

Governors Favor Works Project Over Tax Cut

MIAMI, Fla. — A majority of the nation's governors appeared today to believe that expanded public works rather than a general federal tax cut offer the best method of combating the economic recession.

The governors came to grips with the economic problem in four simultaneous panel sessions.

Sentiment Is Heavy

A cross-section check indicated top-heavy sentiment against the kind of individual income tax reduction now being subjected to cautious sparring between members of the Eisenhower administration and Democratic leaders of Congress.

Significantly, perhaps, more Democratic than Republican governors had spoken out at this 50th annual meeting against an across-the-board reduction. With the exception of Democratic Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York, those who proposed such cuts did so reluctantly.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, regarded as a potential bidder for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said he thinks it is too late to get any real anti-recession benefits from a general federal tax cut.

Generally, the Democratic governors favored the public works approach. Democratic Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut suggested, in this connection, that President Eisenhower call in the leaders of both parties in Congress to agree on an anti-recession program.

The sentiment against a tax reduction was heavy in the cross-section survey. Republican Governor William G. Stratton of Illinois and Joe Foss of South Dakota said it would be folly to cut down on revenues with big expenditures ahead.

The same stand was taken by Democratic Governors George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, Orville Freeman of Minnesota and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

Mary Cusack Dies, Study Of Mishap Planned by DA

Mary Elizabeth Cusack, 18, of 199 Main Street, died in the Albany Hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in a May 15 accident, and the district attorney's office revealed today that circumstances preceding the mishap are to be investigated.

Critically injured when the car in which she was riding struck two poles on Albany Avenue, she was taken first to Kingston Hospital, and was transferred within hours to the upstate hospital for treatment of severe head injuries, a fracture and lacerations of the left leg. She was reported in critical condition from the time she was admitted to the hospital until her death about 3 p. m. yesterday.

Probe to Be Made

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said he had received reports that someone in a truck was in pursuit of the car driven by Miss Cusack. Details, he said, will be determined by investigation.

The car which she drove, owned by Thomas J. Carpino Jr., of 673 Broadway, headed west on Albany Avenue, for reasons undetermined, swerved off its course, ripped loose two utility line poles, and stopped 85 feet beyond the second one in the vicinity of Harding Avenue. Parts of the car, police said, were scattered in the road.

Funeral Thursday

The daughter of Mrs. Rita Sheils Cusack and the late Edwin D. Cusack, she is survived, besides her mother, by a brother, Thomas J. Cusack of Kingston. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church.

The funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, Thursday at 9 a. m., and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 a. m., where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday between 7 and 9 p. m.

Radel Hopes for Solution

Mayors Group to Talk Placid Change May 21

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in a letter yesterday to the executive secretary of the New York State Conference of Mayors was hopeful of solution of the discrimination issue which appears now to be cutting scheduled attendance for a June meeting of the conference at the Lake Placid Club.

Leaders of the conference, meanwhile, the Associated Press reported, under increasing fire for choosing the club for the conference, plan to take up other possibilities at a Wednesday meeting.

To Decide Wednesday

Mayor Eugene Glusker, of Ellenville, quoted Addison Malley, of Saratoga Springs, executive head of the conference as saying the conference's advisory committee would meet in New York Wednesday night to discuss other possible sites for the meeting.

Glusker, who is Jewish, said he did not feel he could go to the Lake Placid Club. He was also hopeful for a solution, which would allow the conference to be held.

Mayor Radel wrote that he had looked forward since Jan. 1 to attending the conference for the first time.

"However," he said, "I cannot, in good conscience participate therein so long as it is scheduled at the present location." He hoped, he wrote, that "objectionable ground will be removed so many other mayors and myself will be enabled to join with you."

The club is accused of discriminating against Jews. The conference fears a lawsuit, if it shifts, or cancels the meeting, slated for June 1, 2, 3 and 4. Five hundred dred reservations have been made.

Stratton Asks Change

Two Long Beach city officials started the controversy Saturday by refusing to attend and Mayor Samuel Stratton, of Schenectady, wired conference officials suggesting that the meeting place be changed.

City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew and Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, have been authorized to attend with Mayor Radel.

It was announced yesterday

Convictions Upset

New Trials Are Ordered for Two 'Thrill Killers'

NEW YORK — Two of Brooklyn's young "thrill killers," sentenced to life imprisonment four years ago, have won a new trial. Convictions were upset Monday for Jack Koslow, now 21, the red-haired, gaunt-faced leader of the gang, and Melvin Mittman, 20, his stocky, phlegmatic disciple.

The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, second department, held 3-2 that there were errors of fact and law in their trial. No date was set immediately for a new trial.

Koslow, Mittman and two other youths were arrested for a series of wild nighttime forays in Brooklyn parks in the summer of 1954, capped by what Koslow called his "supreme adventure"—tormenting a 34-year-old Negro and pushing him into the East River to drown.

Koslow and Mittman were convicted by a Kings County jury of first-degree murder, committed during a felony, the kidnapping of their victim, Willard Menter.

Of the other two members of the gang, Jerome Lieberman, then 17, was acquitted. And Robert Trachtenberg, then 15, was tried in children's court and placed in a reformatory until he reaches 21.

The Appellate Division decided that the proof was "insufficient to establish the commission of the underlying felony of kidnapping," and failed to show "detention or concealment of the alleged victim" against his will.

Justices Charles E. Murphy and Henry L. Ughetta dissented.

Will Cite Efforts to Halt Slump

President Casts Vote in Primary

HARRISBURG, Pa. — President Eisenhower left here by plane at 11:06 a. m. today for New York where he will make a major speech tonight on the economic situation.

The President came here by helicopter from Gettysburg where he voted in the state primary election.

Arrives by Copter

The copter, setting down on the White House lawn, had picked up Eisenhower at 9:50 a. m. in Washington.

He was on the ground at the Gettysburg voting place for only nine minutes. His helicopter landed in a field near the polling place.

Eisenhower walked to the polling place, chatted briefly with election officials and took off for Harrisburg within a few minutes. He arrived in Harrisburg at 10:59 a. m.

With him were presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty; Eisenhower's personal physician, Dr. Howard M. Snyder; his military aide, Army Col. Robert Shulz; his Navy aide, Capt. E. F. Aurand; and White House Secret Service Chief James Rowley.

To Talk in N.Y.

At the controls was Army Maj. William A. Howell of Montgomery, Ala. His copilot was Lt. Robert B. Anderson of Marion, Ind. From Gettysburg, the President planned to go to New York for a major speech tonight on efforts to end the business slump.

The plan calls for Eisenhower to step from the copter just a few yards from the polling place and after voting continue by helicopter to Harrisburg. There his private four-engine plane was waiting to take him on to New York.

Eisenhower's 30-minute speech tonight on the nation's economy was billed by the White House as a major address.

It will be broadcast nationwide on television and radio at 9:30 p. m., EDT.

He will speak at a dinner concluding a two-day economic mobilization conference sponsored by the American Management Assn.

About 2,000 business leaders from all sections of the country are attending.

Several top industrialists earlier described how their companies are battling the recession. Their company strategies ranged from introduction of new products to win thrifty-conscious consumers to careful scrutiny of their own spending.

Against Drop

"We ought not to let productivity fall," said Frederick R. Kappel, president, American Telephone and Telegraph Co. "Using more manpower to do a given amount of work will cause lasting harm. If productivity goes down, standards of living will go down with it."

Charles H. Percy, president, Bell & Howell Co., photographic manufacturers, said his company reduced prices where it could, to offer consumers a reason for buying now and to insure the company's sales volume.

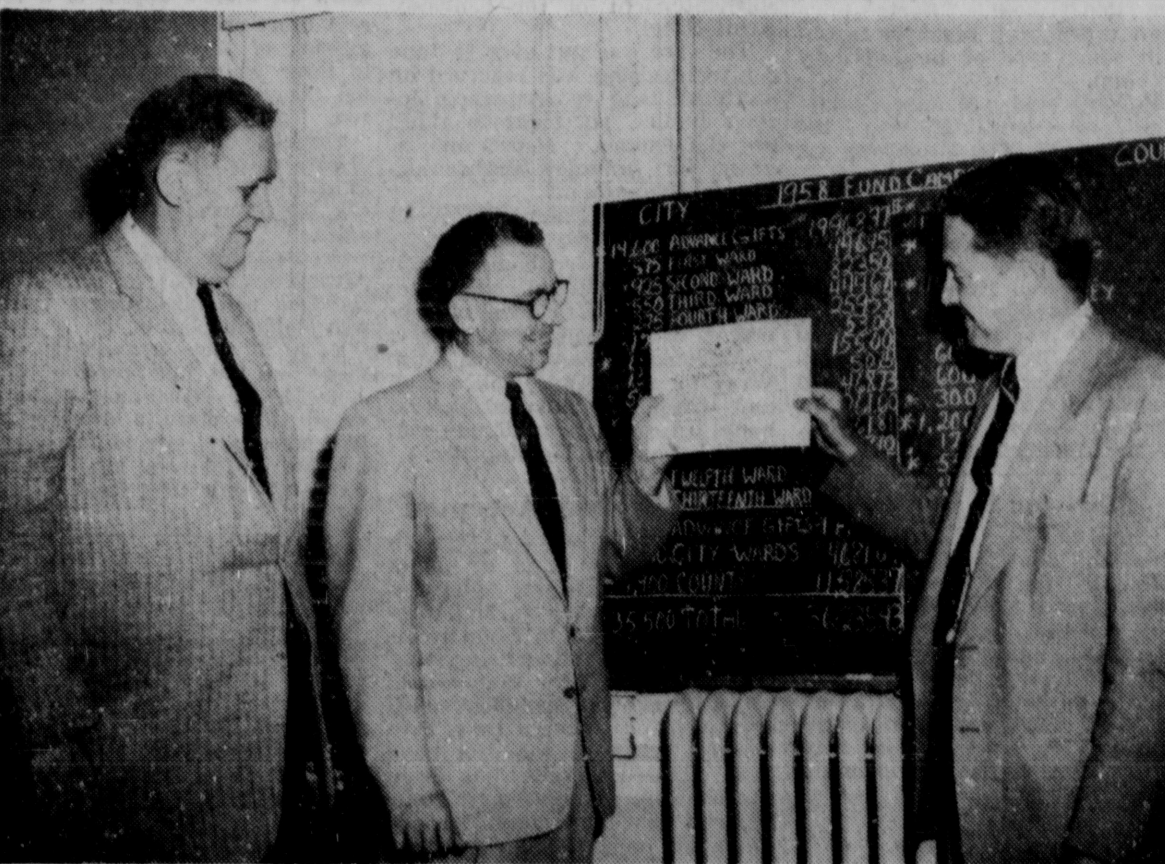

He suggested that industrialists should pay special attention now to their public relations by making good business news available to editors.

Must Survey Items

Elisha Gray II, board chairman of Whirlpool Corp., said manufacturers must survey their merchandise to make sure they have a product worth selling.

"I think," Gray said, "we must look to ourselves as being primarily at fault, if we have failed at

Rigby Among Top 15 To Arrange '59 Fete

ALBANY, N. Y. — The Legislature's Republican leaders today announced their 10 appointments to the new state commission that will help plan the Hudson-Champlain celebration.

The 15-member unit was created by the 1958 Legislature and given $100,000 to help commemorate the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River and of Lake Champlain. The observances will be held next year.

Gov. Harriman will appoint the other five members. Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney appointed:

Harry Rigby Jr. of Kingston, a lecturer on Hudson Valley history and folklore; Republican Senators E. Ogden Bush of Walton, Ernest I. Hatfield of Poughkeepsie and Joseph F. Periconi of the Bronx; and Democratic Sen. Owen M. Begley of Schenectady.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck appointed:

John Vrooman of Schenectady, author of historical novels; Republican Assemblymen George W. Harrington of the Bronx, R. Watson Pomeroy of Wassaic and Willis H. Stephens of Brewster; and Democratic Assemblyman William F. Passanante of Manhattan.

Two Highland Men Feared Drowned; Boat Found Empty

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—A woman crying on shore set off a search today for two men missing since they went out in a boat on the Hudson River last night to fish for shad. Their boat was found empty.

The woman, Mrs. Amos Terry, said the fishermen were her 38-year-old husband, and his brother, David Terry, 28, both of Highland, across the river from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Terry said she was to have met the men at about 2 a. m. As hours passed with no sign of them, she began to weep. Passersby learned her story and notified Dutchess County Sheriff C. Fred Close.

The boat later was found floating upright off Highland. The river had been rough recently although the weather was not stormy.

Dutchess and Ulster County sheriffs' deputies and state police, conducting the search, speculated that one brother may have fallen from the boat and that the other may have been lost in a rescue attempt.

Warning Is Given By Schick Against Abuse of Police

Special City Judge John J. Schick today lashed at the practice of delivering abuse to patrolmen who are acting in their line of duty when making arrests for traffic or other violations.

The judge, this morning, specifically advised Howard D. Houghtaling, of 138 St. James Street, to save his objections or comment for court when he is accused of violations in the future, and he warned against all future verbal abuse or resistance to local policemen acting in line of duty.

Houghtaling, booked on charges of passing a red light and disorderly conduct, was fined $10 on each. He was arrested early today by Officer Frank Stip, who charged him with passing a light at Broadway and Cornell Street.

The second charge followed verbal abuse from Houghtaling, the officer said. Judge Schick advised that he refrain from any similar abuse, if he is stopped by an officer in the future.

Paul Lendday, 39, of PO Box 23, High Falls, who was issued a summons May 8 on a charge of speeding, was fined $10 today.

Attorney John E. Gotelli represented the district attorney's office in court today.

Actions Settled In Supreme Court

An action brought by John Ziros Jr., against Felix Nettleton and his wife, for injuries suffered May 7, 1957, in an accident on Ferry Street, was settled in Supreme Court after it had been partially tried. Matthew H. Weishaupt Jr. and Charles Gaffney for plaintiff and Arthur B. Ewig for defendant.

Ziros was employed by Forst Packing Company and was delivering merchandise on Ferry Street when the accident happened.

Also settled was an automobile accident case brought by Louis Kole against Virginia Abernethy, Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman for plaintiff and Roy L. Featherstone appeared for defendant.

An action brought by Sadie Wilcox and another against Jennings Earl Foster and another, automobile negligence, was also announced settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendants.

A jury was selected today for trial of an action brought by Asa J. Rider and wife, Anna J. Rider, of Kingston against Norma M. Smith and William P. Smith, her son, also of Kingston.

Plaintiff seeks damages resulting from an accident on November 1, 1957, when the cars of parties collided head on. William P. Smith, 18, was operating his mother's car. Schick and Klein appear for plaintiff and Arthur B. Ewig for defendants.

Two cases were announced settled on the call of the day calendar. They are: Albert H. Snyder against Earl Stacks, negligence. Louis P. Francello for plaintiff and no appearance for defendant.

Dorothy Croczeni against Lello Moore, automobile negligence. N. LeVan Haver for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant.

Former Officer Injured Again in Traffic Accident

Michael Mazucca, of 16 Lindsay Avenue, who was injured some time ago while on duty as a local patrolman indicated a possible back injury as the result of one of two traffic mishaps reported to the police last night.

Police said a station wagon of the Police Taxi Co., driven by Mazucca, and a car driven by James L. Nazzaro of Box 270, West Hurley, collided at the Broadway underpass late last night.

Mazucca reported a "possible injury to his back," police said. The former patrolman was injured some time ago while on duty on Broadway near the municipal auditorium. He was under treatment for several months and was unable to resume full-scale duties in the police department. Efforts have been under way recently to obtain some type of limited duty for him.

Police said Mazucca, last night, was turning into the driveway at 525 Broadway at the time of the mishap.

Robert James Auringer, 21, of Hasbrouck Street, Port Ewen, reported a neck injury, after another collision last night at Broadway and Brewster Street. Police said a car driven by Sylvester F. Demskie, of 26 Brewster Street, headed south on Broadway, stopped near an excavation to let a car out of Brewster Street, and was struck by the Auringer car.

Soviet Threats Won't Halt U. S.: Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is not barred by Soviet Communist threats from doing its duty anywhere in the world.

He made the statement at a news conference in discussing the crisis in Lebanon. The Soviet Union has issued warnings against any interference in Lebanon's internal affairs.

Dulles said the President has plenty of authority under a Middle East policy resolution adopted by Congress more than a year ago to act to preserve Lebanon's independence and integrity if necessary and if requested to do so. He declared that Lebanon would not have to be attacked by international communism in order to make the resolution effective. But he also asserted emphatically that the U. S. government is not anxious to have a situation develop that would serve as a pretext for introducing U. S. forces into the area.

Since the Middle East resolution—sometimes called the Eisenhower Doctrine—is normally considered a statement of American intention to protect friendly Middle Eastern countries against attack by international communism, Dulles was asked whether he was broadening the U. S. Middle East policy by interpretation.

He replied that Congress had written into the resolution a sentence stating that the independence and integrity of Middle Eastern countries is vital to the peace and security of the United States.

Decision Help Up On Motions in Woman's Slaying

Decision was reserved in Poughkeepsie today on three motions made by counsel for Joseph George DuBraski, 33, of 174 Mansion Street, Poughkeepsie, who was charged last month with second degree manslaughter, after the death of Miss Dorothy Marie Wray, 41, superintendent of the Embassy Arms Hotel.

The case was put over to June 3 after decision was reserved on motions made by Attorney Joseph J. Judge, pertinent to a bill of particulars, inspection of grand jury minutes and demurring of indictment.

DuBraski was arrested April 22 after Miss Wray, who, authorities said, had been badly beaten was found dead in her hotel room. DuBraski, a machine operator in the Schatz Mfg. Co., Poughkeepsie, had known Miss Wray for some time, police said, and they had quarreled several hours before she was found dead. He is accused of beating her.

Phone Orders Accepted

NEW YORK (AP)—An experiment in a new kind of ticket service for Broadway plays is showing initial success. The producers of four Main Stem items recently began advertising that telephone orders for seats would be held at the boxoffice until shortly before curtain time. Previously telephone requests have been refused. Trade has been considerably stimulated, all four report. Most important, an anticipated major bugaboo has proved unfounded, with 90 per cent of the reservations being picked up.

400 Attend Tenth Anniversary Fete At Ahavath Israel

Some 400 persons attended the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the State of Israel Monday night at Congregation Ahavath Israel and heard the Rev. John Stanley Grauel, expert on Middle East affairs, describe its development and significance to the Eastern Mediterranean and the world.

The Rev. Mr. Grauel, frequent traveler to Israel, Europe and North Africa, called attention to the fact that what had been only a dream for 2,000 years—the founding of a Jewish state—had become a reality 10 years ago.

With the establishment of Israel the history of dispersion and homelessness among the Jewish people was terminated, he said.

Doors Are Open

Now its doors are open to receive homeless and persecuted persons from all over the world.

He charged that the Arab refugee problem was created by the British government which urged the Arabs to remove themselves. Israeli, on the contrary, desired them to remain and still seeks a solution establishing justice and peace. The overtures have been spurned, however, due largely to the activities of certain of the Arab nations, Egypt in particular, which are using the current turmoil for their own selfish gain.

BSA Color Guard

The community wide aspects of the program were augmented by an interfaith color guard of Boy Scouts and a representation from the Kingston Ministerial Association led by the Rev. Ralph E. Hughes of Trinity Methodist Church.

Also participating in the program was Jerry Blair, Scout executive of Rip Van Winkle Council, who described plans for the international jamboree to be held in Israel this summer. He also officiated in the presentation of Ner Tamid awards for service to Scouting and religious principles.

An interfaith and non-denominational responsive reading was conducted by Rabbis Herbert I. Bloom, H. Z. Rappaport and Jacob Rubenstein.

A reception was held with refreshments served by the Sisterhoods of the Congregations Ahavath Israel, Agudas Achim and Temple Emanuel and the ladies of B'nai B'rith and Haddassah.

Representatives of numerous Kingston organizations were present, including Mayor Edwin Radel.

Labor Committee

dition at a Sullivan County Hotel.

"Work in Sullivan County is good, with a large number of carpenters on the jobs," said a spokesman for the Carpenters Council. There are also a large number of members of the Council working job in Newburgh, Middletown and a considerable number in the Oneonta area as well as on the New York City reservoir job at Cannonsville.

Only about 45 carpenters are "normally" employed by local contractors, it was stated by a representative of the Carpenters Council, representing only about 10 per cent of the membership. While only about 10 per cent of the members of the Council are employed by local contractors, it was stated, the contract bargaining is only with the local contractors. Out of town contractors who may be operating in the area have "no voice" in negotiations but when running jobs in the area must abide by the terms in effect locally, it was pointed out by the spokesman.

One and OnlyGM Makes Direct Pitch to Workers To Accept Pact

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors today appealed to 330,000 hourly rate workers for prompt agreement to the only wage proposal the company says it intends to make.

GM President Harlow H. Curcio made the appeal in a letter mailed to employees Monday.

UAW Against Offer

In the letter Curcio again went over the heads of United Auto Workers leaders who have rejected the GM offer to renew the 2½ per cent wage formula of the present contract.

The company estimates union demands, exclusive of profit sharing, would amount to an increase of 73 cents an hour per employee. The union denies this but has given no estimate of its wage and fringe demands.

Curcio followed up a similar letter he sent employees May 3. GM's bid for rank and file support came as the UAW's contract talks with GM, Ford and Chrysler were deadlocked under mounting pressure of deadlines. Talks were scheduled today at three.

No Union Comment

The GM contract runs out May 29. Ford and Chrysler contracts end three days later.

The union had no immediate comment on Curcio's appeal.

The UAW's General Motors Council, as well as councils representing Ford and Chrysler workers throughout the country, were summoned to meet in Detroit Friday. The councils are expected to urge UAW members to report for work as usual if there is no settlement when contracts terminate.

Circus Worker Gets$55,000 for Legs Loss

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — A circus employee who lost both his legs under a train has won a $55,000 court settlement.

Patrick Brewer, 57, of Kansas City, Mo., fell under a train in a freight yard here June 27, 1956. He was working for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

He sued both the New York Central Railroad and the circus. The settlement was announced in U. S. District Court here Monday. Attorneys did not specify how the railroad and the circus would split the payment.

Seaman Is Rescued

PANAMA (AP) — A Danish seaman who fell overboard swam for five hours Monday before a ship spotted him 14 miles off the north entrance of the Panama Canal.

Vagn Astrup, 43, fell off the Norwegian tanker Anne. Crewmen on the Cristobal spotted Astrup bobbing in the waves and sent a lifeboat to get him. He was reported in good condition at the Canal Zone Hospital today.

Sunday's 40 and 8 Event Is Canceled

Indefinite postponement has been announced of the wreck and promenade Sunday at Elleville of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux.

A new date is to be set soon for the event at which new members are to be entitled, and the usual reports made on the general program and welfare projects sponsored by the organization of war veterans who must be members of the American Legion to be accepted.

Crisis Due TodayStritch Has Good Night

ROME (AP) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, partially paralyzed by a severe stroke Monday, spent a good night and doctors said his condition had not worsened. The crisis was expected sometime today.

"His condition is satisfactory," said a brief medical bulletin this morning. It was signed by the cardinal's personal physician, Dr. Ralph Bergen of Chicago, and Dr. Filippo Rocchi, Vatican physician.

"Twenty-four hours have now passed and that already is something," Rocchi said. "Naturally we continue to hope for the best."

Prof. Arnaldo Pozzi, director of the clinic where the prelate is hospitalized, said he was not able to talk but was lucid.

The 70-year-old Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago suffered a blood clot in the brain that partially paralyzed his right side and impeded his speech.

His right arm was amputated April 28 to check the threat of gangrene arising from another blood clot.

He arrived in Rome last month to assume his new post as chief of the Vatican congregation in charge of missions.

President SignsMilitary Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed legislation boosting military pay, with the aim of making career service more attractive.

The first year cost is figured at half a billion dollars.

The increases, effective for payrolls next month, would go to most persons on active duty in the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines with more than two years service.

Draftees and young officers in their initial required duty tours would get no increase, but boosts in base pay range from $399 a month for the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff down to $6.20 additional for some privates and apprentice seamen.

Reservists on active duty or taking periodic training would share in the increases.

SAUGERTIES NEWSCancer Crusade Reaches Halfway Mark, Nets $994

Almost half of the 1958 Saugerties Cancer Crusade goal of $2,000 was reached Monday night following a count of the "lights on" march receipts of the village and town at Saugerties Town Hall.

A total of $994 was the final count at 11 p. m. with canisters missing from 13 areas, and some 21 canisters to be collected from area business establishments, according to Mrs. Marian Eckert and Mrs. Marita Stay, town co-chairmen of the drive.

Crusade headquarters in the Town Board room was bustling with activity all evening as canvassers arrived from all parts of the village and township with canisters and receipt books. The fire siren sounded at 7 p. m. signalled the volunteers in the village to start the "lights on" march. Township canvassers had been collecting throughout the day and were the first to make returns at headquarters.

Mrs. Jeannette Mormile of Barclay Heights, who had set up a sub-headquarters in her home to accommodate the canvassers in her area, arrived at the Town Hall about 9:30 to add her receipts to the total.

Also assisting with the counting and stacking of coins were Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Cawein and members of the Saugerties Girls Club including Miss Ann Brice, Miss Alice Brooks, Miss Linda Cuta Isabella and Miss Sharon Eckert.

Town Constables Charles Reilly and Benjamin Newkirk, and Supervisor Peter M. Williams were also on hand to lend assistance.

Mrs. Eckert told The Freeman today that although over 70 volunteers made the canvass, it is possible that someone willing to contribute was missed. Those wishing to give to the drive may send the donation to Mrs. Eckert, 67 Livingston Street, Saugerties. Mrs. Eckert said she is hoping for some large contributions in the mail to help meet the quota.

2 SHS Seniors Added To Regents Alternates
Heather Graff and Thomas Hull, Saugerties High School seniors, are included in the list of alternate Regents College scholarship winners for Ulster County it was announced today by the State Education Department.

Fifteen alternate candidates have been listed among whom Thomas Hull ranks fourth and Heather Graff ranks eighth. Alternate candidates are awarded the Regents College scholarships provided the original winners decline them. Miss Graff is editor of The Ulsterette, SHS newspaper.

Thirty-three Regents College scholarships are awarded annually in Ulster County. Five Saugerties High School seniors are included in the group of original winners: Henry Sacks, Frederick Hornbeck, Sally Davi, Luisa Luukkari, and Barbara Russell. Regents College scholarship holders are entitled to a stipend of from $250 to $700 a year depending on financial need while attending an approved college in New York State.

Three other Regents scholarships were won by Saugerties High School seniors. Eleanor Lasher was awarded a Regents scholarship which carries a stipend of $200 to $500 a year. Regents scholarships for engineering and scientific studies were won by Frederick Hornbeck and Henry Sacks. These scholarships carry a stipend of $300 to $850 a year for study at an approved college or university in New York State.

Orderly Funeral Is Promised by Students

PANAMA (AP) — Students promised an orderly funeral today for a high school youth fatally injured in demonstrations against Panama's education minister.

President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. blamed the clash Monday between the students and National Guardsmen on political opponents who he said used the youths as a shock force against his government.

Sixty-two persons were injured in the clash at Panama City's largest high school — 42 students, 18 Guardsmen and bystanders.

The troops broke up the mobs with shots fired into the air and tear gas.

The students accuse the education minister of not properly equipping and staffing all high schools.

Award Honors Editor

BOSTON (AP) — The New England Associated Press News Executives Assn. has established the Sewall Brown Memorial Award in honor of the late editor and publisher of the Providence, R. I., Journal-Bulletin.

Establishment of the award was voted Monday and will be presented for the first time at the 1959 spring meeting of NEAPNEA for disinterested and meritorious public service by a newspaper represented in the association.

Brown, who died 17 months ago, was a founder of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. Oxie Reichler, editor of the Yonkers, N. Y., Herald Statesman, addressed the meeting on expanded public service by newspapers and paid tribute to Brown.

He said Brown "did much to impress upon us the need for proper public service."

Abandons Invasion

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Jakarta government has called off plans for a massive invasion of the Celebes and Halmaheras Islands and has launched hit and run raids on the rebel strongholds in East Indonesia.

The army said the command has decided against a big air-sea assault because "distances are too great, the area too large and the cost prohibitive."

Trujillo Admits Love for Actress

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. says he is in love with actress Kim Novak.

The head of the Dominican Republic's air force broke his long silence on his personal life Monday night on a television program. He said of Kim: "She's a nice girl. She's very sincere. And I like the way she is."

When interviewer Paul V. Coates asked him if he was in love with her, the uniformed, beribboned general paused, then said: "Yes."

He said that he and his wife Octavia formally separated last December, and that he started divorce proceedings in March. He said that Octavia will retain custody of their six children.

Trujillo said the United States had never sent money to his country, where his father is the strong man. U.S. aid has been in the form of materials, he said. "I like to spend money," he said. "And I spend my own money." He said it came from sugar refineries and ranches owned by his family.

Says Reds Give Up

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he is convinced the Russians have abandoned hope of using East Germany as a first step toward communizing western Europe.

Adenauer said the Russians "are holding the (East German) zone now as a bargaining point."

What's more, Adenauer said in an interview, the Russians would rather see an economically strong capitalist Germany than a restive Communist one. He said the Russians could get more trade that way.

FOR PRIORITY POSITION

Vice President Nixon's good will tour of Latin America apparently brought out more animosity than good will. Yet we can profit handsomely from the trip if a serious effort is made to understand, and act on, its implications. Nixon cited the most evident of these implications when he declared on his return that South American should be given a "top priority position" among problems of U. S. foreign policy.

The people south of the border have long felt, with some justice, that the United States has taken their good will too much for granted. They have resented the great disparity between our other foreign aid and that given the South American republics. There also is a considerable feeling that we are engaged in economic imperialism but at the same time are unsympathetic to economic problems of the area.

Some of these feelings are based on misunderstanding, and the Communists have done their utmost to aggravate that misunderstanding and inflame public opinion against the United States. Nixon's reception indicates that they have had not a little success, even though the rioters may have represented only a small minority.

Back in Washington, the vice president remarked that "good sense and an objective explanation would quiet the fears that the United States is adopting unfair policies." This would be a good beginning, but more than objective explanations will be required. To overcome their economic problems and squelch Communism, the South Americans will need our help based on a policy that is carefully thought through.

TAX LAW COMING

There will be tax legislation this year, willy-nilly. A point widely overlooked makes this certain. Several special taxes enacted to pay for the Korean war expire on June 30. These include the special rate on corporation profits, now 52 per cent. Without a statute to the contrary, this will drop to 47 per cent.

The automobile excise tax would drop to only half the present figure; many other excise levies, including those on liquor and tobacco, would be cut. Altogether, our present revenue will be lessened by three billion dollars unless Congress does something before June 30.

Obviously, if the automobile industry gets the benefit of tax reduction, other industries, to say nothing of the mass of individual taxpayers, will clamor, "What about me?"

So far the administration has not publicized details of its tax program. There is not much more than a month's time before the question will come up sharply. On this account, it is safe to expect official tax recommendations almost any day. And whatever is recommended, tax legislation is coming.

REVOLUTION OF THE ROADS

Almost quietly, unobtrusively, a revolution is in the making. It is a revolution, but one that may not become apparent to the average citizen until it nears completion, some 15 years from now.

This is the colossal 40-billion-dollar interstate freeway system.

It has been stated that every billion dollars spent on highway construction means jobs for half a million people. This translates into new homes, furnishings, more recreation and countless other refinements we have come to demand as part of our way of life.

But above and beyond all the pros and cons about the effectiveness of the program as an immediate economic shot in the arm are the immense long-range benefits that will be a heritage to the nation for years to come: mobility, safety, the opening of new areas for residential and industrial expansion, to mention only a few.

America is laying new sinews of strength

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE SIGNIFICANCE OF NIXON

To be spat upon for his country, to have rocks hurled at him, to see his wife imperilled by the angry mob and to know that a missile might main or even kill him, is the experience of few men. Vice President Nixon, as everybody now knows, comported himself with dignity which is not difficult but also with humility which is the hardest task of all.

He came away without anger but surely with more understanding. When he said that we cannot take our friends for granted, he said what few politicians recognize, namely, that gratitude can be a profound virtue and should last longer than the first slight. In politics the phrase is, "What have you done for me lately?"

Dean Acheson, in his extraordinarily understanding little book, "Power and Diplomacy," made the point.

With clichés about our three thousand miles of undefended frontier with Canada and the good neighbor policy toward Latin America, we pass on to worry about Algerian independence and the Imam of Oman. Yet all is not going well in our hemisphere.

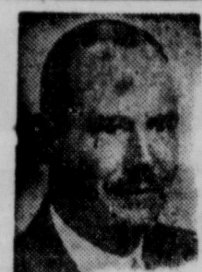

This is so true, but it was also true when he was Secretary of State and before him. For when we gave up the Monroe Doctrine and adopted the "Good Neighbor Policy," we relinquished substance for shadow, assurance for promise, protection for risk, with the result that Latin America has been disturbed, as though hit by a cyclone, since the end of World War II. And in stimulating trouble, the Communists have had a free hand since the 1920's when Lombardo Toledano organized for the conquest of Latin America for the Kremlin and set up his headquarters in Mexico City, which is today the true powerhouse for Communist activity in the United States.

Very little has been done by this country to meet this situation, first, because it was not recognized as a serious American problem until recently; secondly, because of our Europe First policy; thirdly, because we took Latin America for granted; and finally, because we failed to realize that a storehouse of raw materials requires a market and that the best available market for Latin American products is the United States.

Zinc, lead, coffee, copper, oil and many other such products are what we must take from the Latin American countries if they are to thrive through their own productivity. The fact that such countries as Brazil and Colombia produce more coffee than the world can consume does not influence them into acknowledging that the United States cannot buy all that they offer at the prices they choose to ask. Similarly, it is impossible for the United States to consume all the residual oil that Venezuela wishes to export, particularly as residual oil is a miserable product which does damage to our own coal industry.

The Latin American countries, on the whole, do not emerge from primitive social and economic conditions as rapidly as their intellectuals would like because industrialization is too slow, the markets for their products too uncertain, their per capita earnings too low. Such an area is a well-manured field for Communist propaganda and agitation and for antagonism against those who really help these people by investing their capital in the development of the area. Poverty, disease, disappointment, ingratitude are good soil for the development of the area. Poverty, disease, disappointment, ingratitude are good soil for the development of the area. Poverty, disease, disappointment, ingratitude are good soil for the development of the area.

Surgery May Be Necessary
For Severely Ruptured Disc
BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A ruptured disc is one of the most common and unpleasant causes for backache.

First, what is a disc? The intervertebral disc is a moderately soft cartilage which lies between the bony vertebrae of the spine. It is these cartilages which make it possible to bend the back—in other words, which gives the back flexibility.

However, since cartilage is softer than bone it is more likely to be injured, strained or otherwise damaged than the bony part of the spine.

If there is pain in the lower portion of the back, or down the course of the sciatic nerve along the back of the leg, a rupture or hernia of this cartilage comes under suspicion.

Diagnosis is not easy, but can usually be made by a careful study of the history of the pain—that is, whether it followed an injury. Similar information is obtained from the patient, by the physical findings and by what can be seen in an X-ray film.

It is usually advisable to give conservative (that is non-surgical) treatment for the ruptured disc at first.

Also, conservative treatment is generally advised for those who have mild attacks, attacks coming only at long intervals, for those who are over 50, and for those in whom the diagnosis is doubtful.

For patients with intolerable back pain along the sciatic nerve; those who have repeated severe attacks for a long period of time, and for some others, an operation comes in question.

The operation employed in such cases may be removal of the ruptured disc, which is often combined with a bony fusion or binding together of the two vertebral bones between which the disc lies.

Many difficult problems arise in connection with ruptured intervertebral discs and their treatment.

For example, Mr. C. writes that he has had a disc removed and that it was necessary to replace a bone. I imagine he means that two of the vertebrae were joined together or fused.

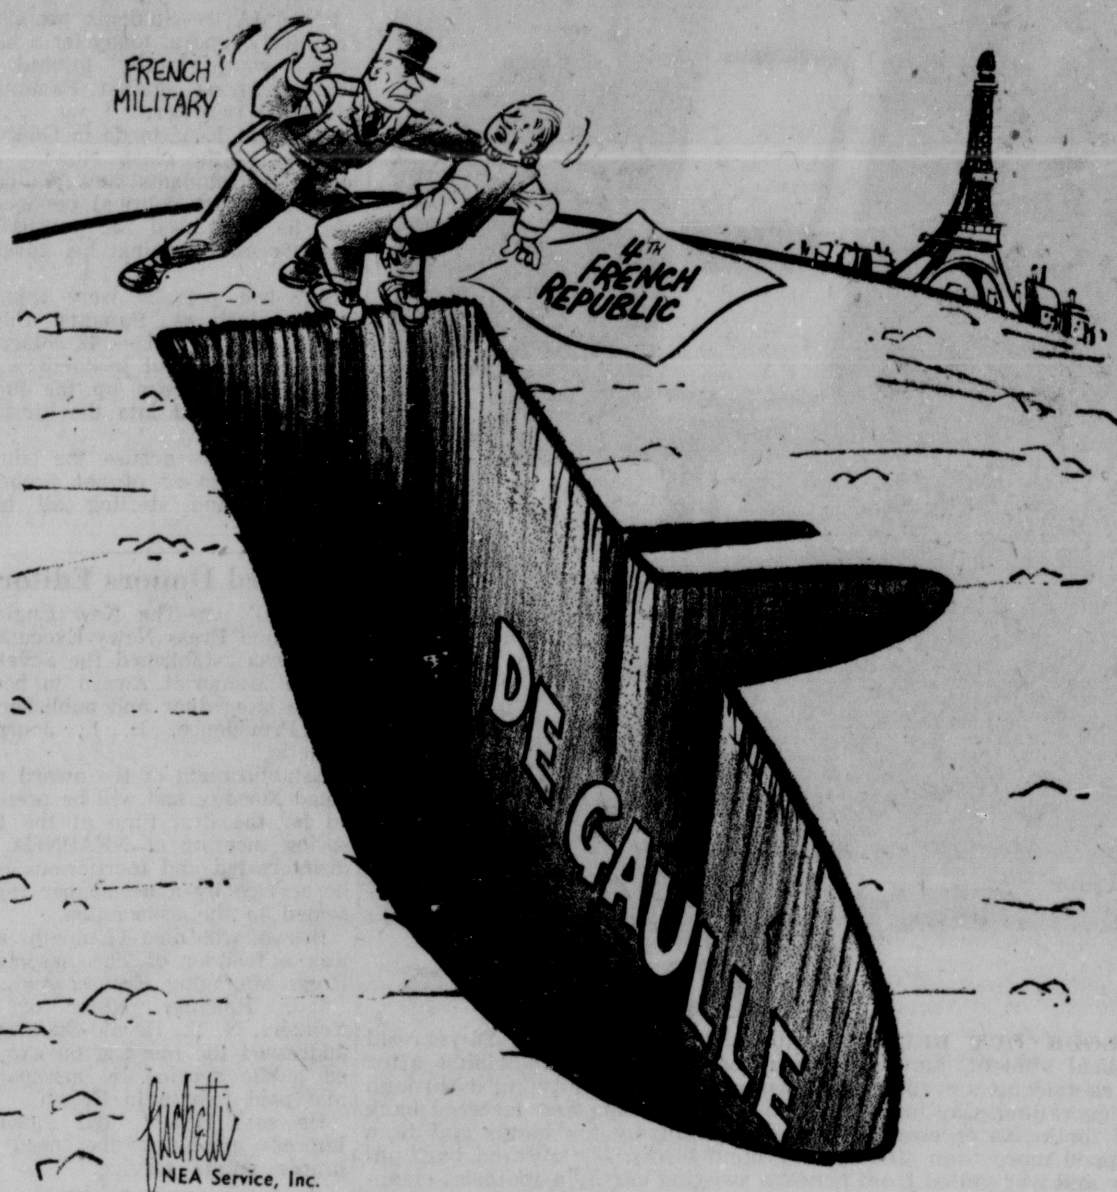

In any event, he says that he has been bedfast and unable to walk without the aid of a cane. He is 65 years old and asks if I can give an opinion on how long it will be before he can walk.

Of course, I cannot say what his delay in walking is caused by, although he does not say how long he has been bedfast. However, one would suspect that perhaps because of his age, the bones have not grown together as fast as they would in a younger person and consequently the period of recovery is taking longer.

In all probability, however, he will be able to walk properly eventually, though doubtless it seems like a very long time to him.

—sinews of concrete to make truly one great nation of this vast land. We have only to look about us to see this new America in the building.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Fifty-four U. S. Information Agency libraries and cultural centers in 21 foreign countries have been bombed, sabotaged, set fire to, mobbed or otherwise attacked in the last 10 years.

Responsibility cannot be placed against Communist agitators in every case. The most recent attack on a USIA information center in Algiers was by a French Loyalist mob.

Attacks on USIA libraries in Tripoli and Beirut, Lebanon, are attributed to a combination of pro-Nasser Arab rioters and Communists.

Crowd demonstrations against the USIA center in Greece have been sparked by protests on the Cyprus incident.

In India, the Goa incident started trouble.

USIA director George Allen says, "Crowds attack U. S. buildings because we're biggest and strongest. They like to see the big fellow stub his toe."

President Eisenhower also told his press conference Wednesday that there was no single cause for these attacks.

But he identified the pattern of attack as a Communist habit.

IN ONE SENSE, this is the greatest tribute the Communies can pay to the effectiveness of U. S. Information Centers overseas in telling the American story and countering Communist propaganda. Communists want the libraries put out of business. And they jam Voice of America broadcasts.

Few people think of librarians as being in a particularly hazardous occupation. But the staffs of the 154 U. S. Information Center libraries in 64 countries are actually on the front line of the war against communism.

No American lives have been lost or no Americans have been seriously injured in these book-burning riots.

The attacks on Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Lima, Peru, and Caracas, Venezuela, are the closest approaches to violence against American citizens so far. But many native visitors to overseas American libraries have been injured.

One reason U. S. libraries are singled out for Communist attacks is that they are usually located in the busiest parts of foreign cities, to attract big crowds.

Last year nearly 12 million books were checked out of USIA lending libraries. The average was about four readers for every one of the three million books on the open shelves. About 980,000 of these books are in foreign languages.

U. S. newspapers, magazines and reference works in English are also available.

POSTWAR COMMUNIST-type demonstrations against the United States began just 10 years ago. The first was rioting in Bogota, Columbia, April 9, 1948, disrupting the Pan-American Conference for three days.

Since that time there have been eight bombings of USIA libraries in Baghdad, Damascus, Buenos Aires, Tunis, Beirut, Saigon, Athens, and Oriente Province, Cuba.

Forty native visitors were injured by a hand grenade thrown in the USIA library at Beirut, March 19, 1951.

The U. S. library at Athens was almost completely destroyed by a high explosive incendiary charge on Nov. 14, 1957.

Six cases of sabotage have been reported in libraries. The usual device is an infernal machine or crude bomb placed on the shelves at night.

TWENTY CASES OF MOB ACTION damage against libraries are listed. Four were in Greece, three in Yugoslavia and India, two each in Brazil and Lebanon. One each in Algeria, Iraq, Jordan, Tunisia, Venezuela, and Formosa.

The last—not of Communist origin—resulted in almost total wrecking of the U. S. embassy and information center in Taipei after the acquittal of Master Sergeant Robert Reynolds on charges of killing a native peeping Tom.

Nineteen other cases of harassment and minor damage to information centers are reported. Five were in Greece, four in Indonesia, three in South America, two each in Syria and Pakistan, one each in Austria, India and Egypt.

SHOKAN—John Irving of Mohonk Road, High Falls, was a recent caller in the hub of the reservoir country. Irving is one of the few remaining blacksmiths in Ulster County.

A number of local people attended the minstrel show staged in the Olive Bridge Hall by the Clinton Eastern Star troupe of Kingston.

Gladys Brunel, Boiceville, was a caller here recently.

Mrs. Joseph Hill of James Street, Rosendale, was a Shokan caller Friday.

Mrs. Max Holzer of Ashokan, the former Eva Cox of Kingston, is reportedly a hospital patient.

Lester Roosa of Stone Ridge was a recent caller in the village center.

Trooper J. Elsworth is a new resident of the trailer park on Van Steenburgh Lane.

Mrs. Franklin Hyatt spent Tuesday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Fred Adist of the reservoir road. The former Catherine Every resided here as a girl.

William Harrington is again at his Boiceville place after having spent several months in the south.

Martin Hahn who as a boy resided with his parents at Orchard Rest in the west end of the village and attended the Shokan school, was a caller at the local museum Sunday. He now makes his home in Jersey.

French Woes Called Result Of Occupation, Communists

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Poor France! Few Americans realize that the plight of the French nation is directly due to five years of occupation by an enemy army during World War II. Few Americans realize also that in a period of thirteen years nations do not recover from the catastrophe of a major war. The situation calls for sympathetic understanding by the United States.

Today's government in France owes its instability to the fact that the Communists played a prominent role in the resistance movement during the war. They fought underground very effectively. The people of France were aware of the aggressive and at times heroic behavior of some of the Communist leaders and, when the war was over there was a tendency to accept the French Communists as an integral part of any government to be set up.

But the Communists, with their adherence to ideological doctrines that prompts them to take orders from Moscow, have managed ever since the war to prevent the establishment of a truly national government in Paris.

The various political parties on the non-Communist side are split, and they differ so vehemently on economic issues that it is a simple matter for the solid bloc of 142 Communist members of the French Parliament to play one group against another and keep France in a constant turmoil.

The answer to France's problem is not in one individual—either de Gaulle or anyone else. It must be sought among all the leaders of the non-Communist parties, whose members do not realize today how adroitly the Communists have been keeping the nation from getting a continuously stable administration.

There are plenty of able men from whom a Premier could be chosen, but capacity to lead means little in the face of the threat that comes from the divisions among the non-Communists as the Communists throw their votes to one faction or another and thus help overthrow the incumbent Premier.

Economic issues, of course, underlie the whole situation. France as an empire, with overseas trade and investments, occupied a foremost place in the world before World War II. But since 1945 French colonies, one by one, have been separated from the mother country.

French properties in Indo-China, in Syria, in Lebanon and in Tunisia, French Morocco and Algeria have been either taken away or threatened. Yet Frenchmen have invested heavily for decades in all these areas. The Algerian question presents a conflict, for instance, between an efficient, hard-working French minority and a Moslem majority. It was French money that built Algeria, and now France sees that colony slipping from its direct control, as happened in Tunisia.

Resentful Of U. S.

What part has the United States played in all this? Many Americans have been in the forefront of the agitation against "colonialism." Theoretically, of course, there should be self-government, and France has been invited in some cases to grant autonomy as in Tunisia and French Morocco. But when the confiscation of the property of French citizens is threatened, as in Algeria, it is natural that the anti-colonial attitude expressed in countries like the United States, which have nothing to lose, should stir up resentments within France because of alleged interference by America.

On top of the normal and natural outcroppings of a spirit of nationalism in the colonial areas has come the Communist infiltration and military help. Thus, from Egypt, arms have been sent to other parts of North Africa. The Communist objective has been to embarrass and weaken the French government in Paris.

Militarily speaking, it was a big advantage for Moscow to bring about a situation in which France had to send 400,000 soldiers to North Africa, thus subtracting materially from the French contribution to the NATO alliance.

Exultation in Moscow

Today in Moscow there is exultation that France is on the brink of civil war. For certainly, if a world war broke out tomorrow, France would be of little help to the NATO military establishment.

Considering the critical circumstances that prevail in Paris nowadays, it was sensible for members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee here to declare that they would withhold comment. There is very little the United States government itself can do except to stand by and be ready to give a free government in Paris moral support. The rumors for the last several days that de Gaulle would take over in some form of dictatorship have happily been dispelled by the French leader himself. France isn't ready to scrap her constitution, though she may be ready to revise it in an orderly way to prevent disloyal elements like the Communists from exercising any such power as they do today in the French Parliament.

France will start her journey toward recovery and will revive the true spirit of the republic when the Communists are outlawed and banned from participation in the legislative body. That's the key to orderly government and to peace inside France.

Chronic School Absenteeism Cited as Delinquency Trend

NEW YORK—Terming chronic absenteeism from school as the usual start of a boy on the road to juvenile delinquency, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt Monday night called for concerted efforts on the part of public and private bodies to improve school attendance.

In his speech at the annual dinner of the New York State Attendance Association in New York City, Levitt cited a number of recent studies which placed truancy high on the list of the causes of juvenile misconduct as proof of the need for "effective action at this early stage of the disease of delinquency."

Suggest Formal Study

As one approach, Levitt suggested that the Attendance Association undertake a formal study to seek out the causes of absenteeism from school and to recommend means of meeting this problem. Levitt assured the gathering that both he and Governor Harriman would give their full cooperation to the findings as to what the state's responsibility should be in this field.

He said, "The Governor has asked me to express to you his feeling that your association can be of great importance in framing the role of the state, certainly, as the oldest of the pupil personnel services, you should provide the necessary leadership in this area. We believe that your experience and knowledge should be brought to bear in advising us on future actions to be taken. You are in touch with your communities. You are in a position to see the problem first-hand." Levitt recommended that they consider instituting the study on the causes of truancy and methods to cope with the problem. He suggested that, as an initial step, they form a committee to meet with state officials "who are most concerned with this problem to map a plan of action."

Needs Information

Levitt touched upon the need for educating the public as to the new concept of attendance. He criticized those who still think in terms of compulsion and conviction when it is the attendance teachers' responsibility to seek out the causes of truancy and through proper guidance develop satisfied attitudes towards school.

He urged that increased attention be given to providing the attendance teachers with the proper tools and community support to perform their duties. These include raising the professional standard for attendance teachers, providing adequate compensation to encourage trained personnel to enter this service, and providing an adequate staff so that each attendance teacher can devote the time necessary for individual contact and assistance.

He said, "The delicate techniques demanded for the prevention of maladjustment and delinquency cannot be in the hands of untrained, unqualified personnel. Nor can we expect good results if each teacher's workload precludes his giving adequate attention to each child."

Six Newsmen Win Fellowships in Science Writing

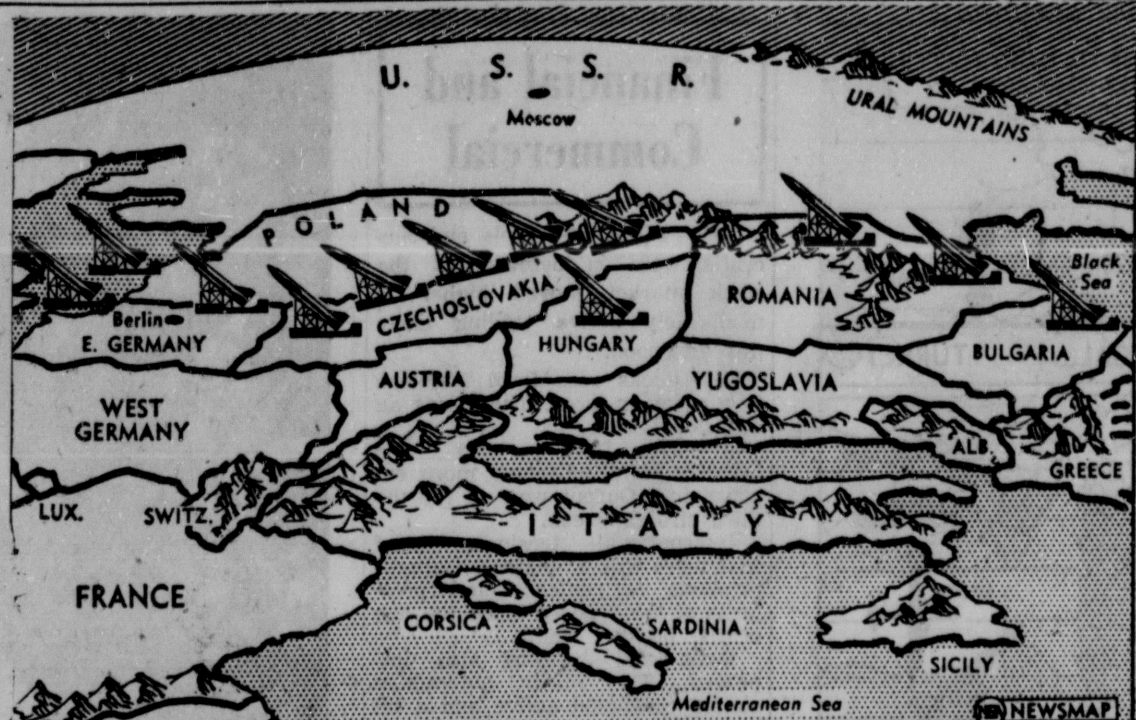

NEW YORK—Six newsmen have won the first fellowships in advanced science writing program at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

They will spend an academic year at the school beginning next September, broadening their scientific knowledge and the techniques of interpreting new developments in science.

The fellowships cover class, tutorial and seminar costs, plus up to $4,400 for travel and living expenses. The money comes from the Alfred P. Sloan and the Rockefeller Foundations.

Next year the fellowships program will be increased to 10. The winners, announced Monday, are: Robert Byers, 31, reporter and science writer for The Denver Post since 1952; Henry Goodman, 33, science writer on The Louisville Times since 1956; Jay Holmes, 36, reporter for The Associated Press in its Buffalo and Albany bureaus since 1951; Samuel Moffat, 30, reporter and science writer on The Palo Alto (Calif.) Times since 1955; Marvin Stone, 34, Far Eastern director of the International News Service since 1952, and William Struble, 36, reporter and science writer for The Rochester Times-Union since 1956.

RED ROCKET PATROL—According to information received by Western sources in Vienna, the Soviet Union has established a line of rocket launching sites from the Baltic to the Black Sea. The report said the rocket bases have existed in Eastern Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria (see Newsmap) for at least six months. Five of the 12 bases are located in Czechoslovakia. An armament center is under construction in the Slovak village of Sniny, which is to produce the most modern and advanced weapons. Soviet officers have also been reported training Hungarian soldiers in atomic warfare.

Residents Urged To Be Wary of Deceptive Sales

Spring is busting out all over. So are the multitude of schemes carried on by professional promoters to make an easy dollar at the expense of local citizens. There will be more before summer gets here.

"There are many of them. The approach is usually deceptive and misleading, using some other reason for securing the victims' interest and attention, but then comes the sales pitch or clincher," according to Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber spokesman stated that the number and variety of calls received recently indicates that a wider variety of schemes than usual are being carried on in Kingston and the Kingston area. According to reports, southern and mid-western paint sprayers are the latest acquisition.

The Chamber of Commerce reaffirmed it and has no desire to interfere with legitimate sales efforts. "Without selling efforts and advertising our economy would be at a standstill and disastrous unemployment would result," Kurdt said, "but people should be sure they get their money's worth and get what they pay for."

There are a few general rules to follow, which if followed would save many people many dollars. Some of them are as follows:

- (1) Before you sign anything be positive you know what you are signing. Verbal statements are not binding, especially when the contract is subtle to somebody else. Do not sign a completion certificate before work starts.
- (2) On any job or agreement involving over $50.00 get competitive bids.
- (3) Ask the sales representative for the names of satisfied customers and check with those people before you sign or give the salesman any money. Do not be fooled by promises of bonus payments. Get a name of someone who was paid a bonus.
- (4) Be sure you can find the person with whom you do business to register any complaints. Many cases of fictitious ad-resses given have been reported. Guarantees are absolutely no good if you do not know who is behind the guarantee or where to find him. A fancy printed guarantee does not make it a good guarantee.

(5) Do not be fooled by a professional approach to get your interest, get you to listen over the phone or get into your house. Unfortunately for worthwhile and effective organizations, the "veteran's relief" approach "Units for a scholarship" and "Making a survey" have been used so often by outside promoters that they have been harmful to legitimate efforts by local people. Usually veterans or their organizations get very little for the use of their good name by outside professional promoters only interested in making a fast, easy dollar.

(6) Be wary of phone solicitations, and sales efforts. There are some good ones, but during recent weeks at least six or seven known out-of-town promoters have called every residential phone number in the book. Kurdt said "this must be an economical way of making sales contacts quickly and make more money for the promoter or they wouldn't do it so often and for so many purposes."

Premium Business Man Cleared of Income Tax Charge

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Pudgy Hyman Trugman, cleared of a federal income-tax charge, plans to return to Buffalo, N. Y., and resume his supermarket premium business. He made thousands, then went broke.

U. S. District Judge David W. Ling dismissed on Monday a charge that Trugman had failed to file an income-tax return. Trugman is also known as Harry Lester and Mr. Five by Five.

Ling acted on a motion by Dist. Atty. Jack D. H. Hays, who said Trugman was serving 15 months in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., when he was supposed to have filed the return.

Covered for 1954
Hays said an internal revenue agent at Buffalo filed a return for Trugman April 29, 1955. It covered 1954, the year in question.

Lester was facing bankruptcy proceedings at the time, Hays said. In Buffalo, Trugman's lawyer, Maurice Lutwack, said the Phoenix charge was the last outstanding against his client.

Trugman went to Leavenworth after being convicted in Chicago for using the mails to defraud. Lutwack said he would seek to reopen the case and have the verdict set aside.

Trugman was found guilty of borrowing money to buy imported tulip bulbs for his premium business and then failing to spend the money for that purpose.

Supplied Markets
He supplied supermarkets with goods to be redeemed by customers with premium coupons. Lutwack said Lester wanted to get back into the business.

The attorney said he had new evidence in the Chicago case that would show that Lester had gained title to the tulip bulbs, and had paid more than $100,000. "Harry just about had the imported tulip-bulk market corner," Lutwack said. "Then the price collapsed and a supermarket bought the whole lot for $15,000 or $16,000."

Airliner, Jet Crash; Many Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital Airlines said today one of its airliners crashed shortly before 11 a.m. (EDT) near Brunswick, Md., after a collision with a military airplane.

The airline said 11 were aboard the airliner. There was no immediate information at the Capital office as to casualties.

Bound for Baltimore

In Brunswick, State Police Cpl. Guy Brown said he had reports of such a collision between that Potomac River town and Point of Rocks, about five miles downstream. The reports said there were many dead.

A spokesman said the airline had reports the second plane in the collision was a jet, but it did not have full verification.

The Capital plane was a Vickers Viscount, Flight 300, en route from Chicago to Baltimore by way of Pittsburgh.

The airline's information was that it collided with the other plane just seven minutes before it was due in Baltimore.

A Capital spokesman said there were seven passengers and a crew of 4.

Copter to Check

Neither the Air Force nor the Navy had determined whether any of their aircraft was involved. The Air Force said a helicopter had been dispatched from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to investigate.

In Chicago, Capital said the plane left Chicago with 34 passengers and the crew of 3 at 8:40 a.m. (EDT) for Pittsburgh and Baltimore. Most of the passengers presumably left the ship at Pittsburgh.

A Capital spokesman said it was not known immediately whether any passengers boarded the plane at Pittsburgh. The ship left Pittsburgh at 10:50 a.m.

Capital identified the pilot as Capt. Brown, the co-pilot as Meyer and the stewardess as Miss Hunt. First names and addresses of the crew were not available immediately in Chicago.

Change Is Taken At Uptown Store

Theft of an unknown amount of change from Van's Grocery & Delicatessen, 121 Wall Street, was reported to the police last night.

Police were notified shortly before midnight that two or three men had been seen walking in and out of the rear of the store. Several officers were dispatched there and the owner, Robert B. VanGaasbeek, was notified.

It was found that entrance was gained through removal of a cardboard, which had apparently been placed temporarily after a glass was broken. The change was taken from a cash register. Another in the store was not touched.

Officers Edward Leonard, Richard Scherer, Thomas McGrane and Donald Genthner were dispatched to the store after a woman reported that the men were active at the rear of the store.

Town Bingo

will not be permitted to conduct such games for licensed organizations unless he is a bona fide member. The unauthorized conduct of a game or any willful violation of any provisions of the ordinance shall constitute and be punishable as a misdemeanor. A licensee violating any of the provisions shall forfeit his license and be ineligible for one year.

Provision on Age

Children under 18 years of age will not be permitted to participate unless accompanied by an adult. A six days per month limitation was set and no bingo games will be permitted in any room or outdoor area where alcoholic beverages are sold or served during the progress of the game or games.

The admittance fee in the proposed ordinance was set at no more than $1. Sunday games are prohibited unless otherwise provided in the license pursuant to local law or ordinance.

Fifty per cent of the license fees collected by the town will be forwarded monthly to the State Comptroller's office.

Restrictions Listed

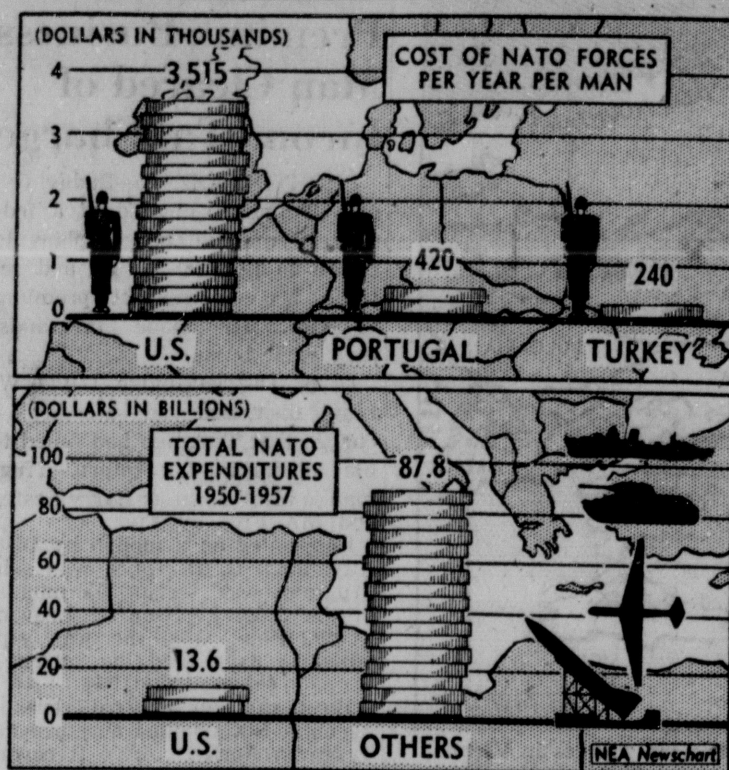

The proposed ordinance sets forth strict restrictions on advertising in any media, except a sign not exceeding 60 square feet which may be placed near or on the premises where the games are played. Fire companies will be permitted to display additional signs on their fire fighting equipment.

A statement of receipts and expenses within 15 days after the game must be filed by the licensee.

The ordinance shall take effect immediately following the approval by a majority of the qualified electors of the Town of Saugerties.

PRICE OF VIGILANCE—Composed of the United States, Canada and 13 nations of free Europe, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is the most powerful peacetime alliance in history. The U.S. budget for fiscal 1959 calls for a NATO appropriation of 737 million dollars. In upper half of Newschart, average cost of maintaining one American soldier abroad is compared with two representative members. Difference is due to higher pay, housing, transportation, etc. In terms of total expenditures, however, lower chart shows that in a seven-year period, the other NATO nations combined have contributed more than six times as much as the United States.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and aircrafts were in demand as the stock market moved higher in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks rose from fractions to a point or more. There was an occasional loser.

Steels rose from the start as the industry picture became more encouraging. Output was up for the third straight week.

International tensions, belief that there will be increased appropriations for defense and prospects of labor peace aided the aircrafts, brokers said.

Rails and coppers also improved. The minor automotive shares continued active and a bit higher.

U. S. Steel was at a high for the year as it rose more than a point. Youngstown Sheet made a similar gain. Lukens was a one-point gainer.

Boeing, Republic Aviation, United Aircraft, Bell Aircraft, General Dynamics and North American aviation were each up around a point.

Nickel Plate rose about two-points. Southern Pacific rose fractionally.

American Motors continued its rise, gaining a fraction. Studebaker-Packard was firm and active. U. S. government bonds were steady.

that Gov. Harriman would not attend and Mayor Robert F. Wagner, of New York, said he would not attend.

Sees Long Beach After Business Following Losses

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—Economic competition rather than discrimination may be at the bottom of the controversy over the site for the State Conference of Mayors convention, a local Chamber of Commerce official said today.

Luke Patnode, the chamber's executive secretary, said Long Beach had lost recently to Lake Placid in competition for two major conventions, the Lions and the Amvets.

He said this may have had "a direct bearing" on the refusal of two Long Beach officials to attend the mayors' meeting if it were held at the Lake Placid Club. Their refusal started the controversy.

The club is accused of discriminating against Jews. The conference fears a law suit if it shifts or cancels the meeting, slated for June 1-4. Five hundred reservations have been made.

Many would go to attend, regardless of whether the meeting was held at the Lake Placid Club. Others said they had not made up their minds.

Rochester's Peter Barry, in saying Monday night that he would go, commented:

"What a private club does to limit its membership is its own business—although I personally might not like it. As long as there is no discrimination when it is operating as a public hostelry the matter becomes academic."

Corning Not Upset

Mayor Erastus Corning of Albany voiced a similar view.

Mallery said only four or five mayors had contacted him to say they would not attend. He did not list them.

The State Commission Against Discrimination (SCAD) has said it found substantial evidence that the club was restrictive against Jews.

But SCAD said the club was private and therefore not subject to the state law banning discrimination in public accommodations.

Leads Dissenters

Maurice J. Fleischman, city manager of Long Beach, said Saturday he would not attend because the club discriminated against minorities.

City Clerk Anthony Di Paola backed him up. After Fleischman's statement, Mayor Samuel Stratton of Schenectady urged that the meeting be transferred.

An aide to Wagner said the mayor would attend a mayor's conference at Victoria, B. C., June 1-4. The aide previously had accepted the Lake Placid invitation for Wagner.

Changes Mind

McKenna, in changing his mind, said: "It has been brought to my attention that the Lake Placid Club has been charged with discriminatory practices against minority groups."

McKenna added that he had not learned of the situation until Sunday. "In view of these charges," he said, "I shall not attend the mayor's conference at the Lake Placid Club."

On Saturday, asked whether he would go, McKenna remarked: "I'm not applying for membership in the Lake Placid Club. I'm just attending a conference for mayors."

The nest of the hornbill bird is usually made in a hollow tree. After the female has laid the large, white eggs, the entrance to the nest site is daubed up with mud or other material so that she is walled in. A hole is left, through which she can thrust her bill for the food that her mate brings during the period while she is nesting.

Fourth Furnace Opens

BUFFALO (AP)—The Bethlehem Steel Co. is operating another blast furnace at its Lackawanna plant.

The fourth of the seven furnaces there resumed operation Monday. The four had been banked more than two months ago.

Putting another blast furnace back in operation follows the re-lighting of five steel-making open hearth furnaces at Bethlehem in the past two weeks.

Steel production in the Buffalo area is now up to 46.4 per cent of rated capacity with 16 of 35 open hearths running at Bethlehem, two of nine at Republic Steel Corp. and one of three at Wickwire Spencer division of Colorado Fuel & Iron.

Other Exams

A promotional and open competitive examination to fill the posts of street and sewer foremen in the public works department will be held June 28. An application for each post has been obtained.

An examination in February to fill vacancies in the police department drew the largest list of candidates since depression years, but this was apparently due to the fact that 10 or more vacancies exist in the department. The test resulted in the recently announced eligibility list of 26, of which 16 received rating of 90 per cent and above.

Morse Gives Views

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) said today that the State Department's own testimony shows that Vice President Nixon's Latin-American tour was a trouble-causing trip which Morse said should have been undertaken.

Morse gave his views to reporters as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee weighed testimony that Communist exploitation of Latin-American grievances against U. S. economic policies fanned mob violence against Mr. and Mrs. Nixon.

Robert Murphy, deputy under-secretary of state for political affairs, made that report to the senators Monday. He said Nixon was told in advance that there was danger of disturbances in Venezuela, but added that "on the heels of assurances by the Venezuelan government of its security measures, violence in Caracas was not anticipated."

3. "His snarling of state finances, which has seen state spending soar 600 million dollars since he became governor, shot the state budget to a record high $1,800,800,000 and brought two increases in the state income tax."

The schedule:

May 27 at Albany—For the counties of Albany, Columbia, Greene, Rensselaer, Schoharie and Ulster.

May 28 at Lake George—For Clinton, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Hamilton, Montgomery, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schenectady, Warren and Washington counties.

June 9 at Poughkeepsie—For Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland and Westchester counties.

June 10 at Binghamton—For Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Cortland, Delaware, Madison, Otsego and Schuyler counties.

June 11 at Syracuse—For Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Oneida, Onondaga and Oswego counties.

June 12 at Buffalo—For Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Orleans and Wyoming counties.

June 13 at Rochester—For Cayuga, Livingston, Monroe, Ontario, Seneca, Steuben, Wayne and Yates counties.

5 Cases Settled, Jury to Name Amount for Ziros

Settlement was announced in four cases Monday as Supreme Court opened here and agreement was reached in another after trial had started.

Justice Harry E. Schirick of this city is presiding over the term at the Ulster County Court House, Wall Street.

A jury was selected in a negligence action to decide the amount of damages to be paid a truck driver who claims injury in a mishap while he was delivering meat.

The case settled after partial trial was a suit for damages to a barn brought by Pauline Manne, Marlboro, against Thomas R. Cook and another.

It was alleged the damages occurred when the Cook car was involved in an accident on the Rosoff Hill, Marlboro, May 20, 1957.

To Name Amount

In the suit for which the jury was selected, John Ziros Jr., driver of a Forst Packing Co. truck, asks damages from Felix Nettleton and his wife, Florence for injuries to his back and knee allegedly suffered on May 7, 1957.

Ziros charges his truck was struck by the Nettleton car as he was delivering merchandise on Ferry Street.

It was said the Nettletons admitted responsibility, and the issue to be settled is the amount to be paid to Ziros.

Four Settlements

Announced settled at the opening of court were these cases:

Idiko Vajna against Alex Bruckner and another, automobile negligence.

Isidore Tennenbaum against The Wilbue & Williams Company, and another, breach of warranty.

Isidore Boxer against Paul Eng, negligence.

Louis Levine and another against Murray Weisberg and another, negligence.

Referred to the Appellate Division for assignment of an official referee to hear and determine was an action in negligence for damage to trees by fire brought by Angelo DeLewis and another against Frank Pettoruto and another.

Radel, Banyo Are To Be Guests at U-A Dinner May 24

Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston and Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo of the Town of Ulster will be guests of the Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Men's Association at the annual banquet and entertainment Saturday, May 24, at the St. Joseph's Church, Town of Ulster, will also be a guest at the dinner.

Reservations may be made for the dinner by notifying Dr. Bernard Cohen, chairman of the banquet committee by Thursday, May 22.

The annual affair, being held at Aiello's Restaurant at 7:30 p. m. on May 24, is designed to bring together members of the Association and its friends in closer relationship. President Ted Musialkiewicz said.

$909,000 Loaned To Two Colleges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loans totaling $909,000 to Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y., and Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., were announced today by the Community Facilities Administration.

A $609,000 loan to Elmira is for construction of a four-story dormitory to house 124 women students. A $300,000 loan to Alfred will cover three quarters of the cost of a student union building to accommodate about 1,200 students.

East Shoulda Stood in Bid

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East played the four of spades on his partner's king and West continued with the ace anyway. When East dropped the queen on that lead West led a third spade.

Declarer ruffed high in dummy and drew trumps. He conceded a trick to the ace of diamonds and claimed his contract.

East pointed out in no uncertain terms that West could have beaten the hand if he had shifted to a club instead of continuing with spades. East also explained that if he had wanted to force dummy to ruff high he could have dropped the queen of spades on the first lead, etc.

There is something to East's contention. A club shift would have beaten the contract, but there is something much more important to discuss about the hand.

Where was East when the bidding was going on? West could throw four spades against the wall and he had bid twice with his 11 high card points and good distribution.

East could surely have afforded a one no-trump bid right

Filmdom Mourns Colman; Great Loss: Marshall

HOLLYWOOD — Top figures of the movie world today expressed high tribute to Ronald Colman, the gracious gentleman of the screen who died Monday. Many will journey to Santa Barbara, 100 miles north of Hollywood, for the funeral in All Saints by the Sea Episcopal Church Wednesday afternoon. Cremation will follow. Colman, 67, died of pneumonia in a Santa Barbara hospital. His health had been poor the last two years. Producer Samuel Goldwyn said of Colman: "Ronald was more than a fine actor—he was a fine man whom I greatly respected, and for whom I had a tremendous admiration." Actor Herbert Marshall said, "His death will mean a great loss."

Port Ewen Poppy Sale Will Start Wednesday

PORT EWEN—It has been announced by Poppy Sale Chairman, Mrs. Jack Travis, that a poppy drive will be held in Port Ewen Wednesday at 7 p. m. by members of the Town of Exous American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 1298. The poppies are bought from hospitalized veterans and funds from the sale are used for disabled veterans, their families and children of needy veterans. Mrs. Milton Tstitera, president of the Auxiliary, reported that in September new shoes were bought for five children of a needy veteran. In November, Thanksgiving baskets were distributed to four families by Mrs. Clifford Davis Jr., rehabilitation chairman. At Christmas, baskets were distributed to five families and gifts of new clothing were given to 14 children. It also was reported that $100 was sent to the Albany Veteran's Hospital to be used for the Christmas Gift Shop. Gifts donated by people in the town were also forwarded at this time. Mrs. G. Knute Beichert, child welfare chairman, distributed groceries for a complete Easter dinner to three families in April. In addition, Easter baskets for 14 children were distributed. Gifts were given to hospitalized veterans from the town throughout the year. Also $10 was sent to the Veteran's Hospital, Albany, for cigarettes for the patients. In June, members of the auxiliary will take homemade cakes to the Albany Hospital and assist at a party for the patients, it was announced by Mrs. Davis.

Lesson She Learns

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Diane Zang learned something from the book "Going Steady," which she reviewed for a ninth grade English class. "I thought the book was very good," wrote 14-year-old Diane, "and I learned not to get married until I am old enough and know what I am doing."

TEST TENT FOR FAIR, BARBECUE — This tent, 111 by 42 feet gets a test on the farm of Harry J. Beatty, Hurley Avenue Extension, in preparation for use at three events during the summer. It will accommodate exhibits at the Ulster County Fair, Forsyth Park, August 20 and 21. Previously it is to be used for the annual Rotary Club chicken barbecue, August 16, at the Beatty farm. Rotarians contributed $500 toward the big top, a new addition to several tents already owned by the Ulster County Agricultural Society, which conducts the fair. Volunteers assisting Beatty with stake driving and rope fastening were William E. Rylance, John Barton, William H. Palmer and Albert Kurdt. (Freeman photo).

Eisenhower Has Talk With Dewey On World Unrest

WASHINGTON — Old friends Dwight D. Eisenhower and Thomas E. Dewey got together Monday for a 30-minute talk that ranged over the tense world situation. The former New York governor, after meeting with President Eisenhower at the White House, had little to say to newsmen. The two men held a general discussion, Dewey said, that touched in part on international affairs. He indicated that the French crisis was a prime topic. Politics did not come up, Dewey added. Asked if he would bid for Irving M. Ives' Senate seat, Dewey remarked that he just could not imagine himself getting into that race. Dewey also played cagey when asked to express his choice for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. He listed five potential candidates as able men. They were Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck; State Senate Leader Walter J. Mahoney; Leonard W. Hall, former GOP national chairman; Nelson A. Rockefeller, and U. S. Atty. Paul Williams. Saying he had no news for reporters, Dewey commented: "I think most of us are spending this day worrying about France."

Refugee Sentenced For Breaking Jail

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y. — A Hungarian refugee, picked up for allegedly entering the United States illegally, has been sentenced to state prison for escaping from a county jail. Gabor Debrody, 37, of Sudbury, Ont., pleaded guilty to the escape charge Monday and was sentenced to 1½ to 3 years in Clinton Prison by Judge Sheldon F. Wickes of Essex County. Wickes dismissed a burglary charge against Debrody. Debrody and another refugee, Lazlo Ukovencki, 27, were recaptured a few hours after they broke out of the Essex County Jail last March. Ukovencki has pleaded innocent to both escape and burglary charges. He is being held in the jail. Both are wanted in Clinton County for allegedly stealing an automobile.

Strike Halts Work

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Construction work on four Air Force Titan intercontinental ballistic missile launching areas has been halted by a wildcat strike. About 500 construction workers walked off their jobs Monday in what was reported to be a protest against the assignment of 15 civil service electricians to the job. The protest came from a crew of electricians who are members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, sources close to the project said. Representatives of the construction companies and the union were not available for comment.

May Have the Bark

ASHLAND, Ky. — A beech tree over 75 years old will be cut down here, but persons who carved their initials on the tree can have the bark. Harry D. Barnes, director of the cemetery where the tree is located, said there is too much sentiment attached to the tree to throw away the bark.

Drop in Job Claims

AUSTIN, Tex. — The Texas Employment Commission says a drop of more than 4,000 was reported last week in unemployment insurance claims. It was the first sizable statewide drop for the year. The total claims for the week ending May 15 were 86,525, down from 90,913 the previous week.

Industrialist Subpoenaed by House Probers

NEW YORK — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has subpoenaed industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton to appear before it as a result of his attack on the nation's internal security agencies. The wealthy Eaton said at his farm estate near Cleveland that he will be delighted to appear. The subpoena was disclosed Monday night by Richard Arens, staff director of the committee headed by Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.). Arens said in a television talk that Walter had signed a subpoena for Eaton to appear as a witness "at an appropriate time."

Japanese Drug May Help in TB, But Has Drawbacks

PHILADELPHIA — A new drug called kanamycin, found in a handful of Japanese soil, may prove a big weapon against tuberculosis. It could be dangerous, too, and cause some loss of hearing or other toxic effects, researchers say. Three papers on kanamycin were presented Monday at a meeting of the National Tuberculosis Assn. The Japanese work was confirmed by Dr. William Steenken Jr. of the Trudeau Foundation at Saranac Lake, N. Y. Steenken said the drug was discovered last year by Hamao Umezawa of the National Institute of Microbe Biological Research in Tokyo. Researchers sifted through scores of soil samples from all over the world before uncovering the new drug. It comes from a mold found in soil. Dr. Kenneth Wright of the State University of New York said more study of human patients treated with the drug was needed to determine its proper and safe dosage. Kanamycin should prove potent against the hard core of tuberculosis patients who do not respond to other anti-TB drugs, researchers said. The first nationwide test of kanamycin on humans will be carried out soon in Veterans Administration hospitals.

NAACP Attacks Powell, Says He's Too Racialism

NEW YORK — The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People has accused Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of what it calls "extreme racialism." The NAACP also said Monday: "We cannot condemn racialism in others while using it ourselves."

right to go freely about the city of New York or about the nation." This referred to a remark by Powell last Sunday at the Abyssinian Baptist Church, of which he is pastor. Powell said Hulan Jack, Negro Manhattan borough president, and Carmine DeSapio, head of Tammany Hall, "better not walk up and down Harlem streets too much."

in 1956. At that time, Powell said he was crossing party lines to support the President for re-election because of the civil rights issue. In its statement, the NAACP defended Powell's right to support Eisenhower, saying other Democrats also bolted their party's ticket. The NAACP emphasized that it is nonpartisan.

Don't worry, brides. There are some things about that man of yours you'll NEVER understand. For instance: How he can become so attached to old clothes? You don't have to understand. Just don't get rid of an old hat, dressing gown or jacket without his permission. How he can hear a juicy bit of scandal and not tell you about it? Maybe it didn't sound so juicy to him. Anyway, just don't show your frustration when, after you've heard it from someone else and tell it to him breathlessly, he says, with annoying nonchalance, "Yeah, I heard that several weeks ago."

Look what you've been missing if you haven't driven a 58 FORD

You just can't appreciate all the wonderful things that have been done to make driving more fun... until you've checked out in a shiny 58 Ford!

Even before you start the engine, notice how much more you can see. Full-circle visibility lets you see where you're going... see what's coming... see to park!

Now touch the starter. Observe how smoothly your engine idles. That's because each Ford engine is built with painstaking care. Each V-8 is electronically balanced while operating under its own power. No other car in Ford's field goes to such lengths to bring you an engine that will operate smoothly... dependably... efficiently. (If your pick is a thirty Six, you can't buy a more powerful, more modern 6-cylinder passenger-car engine than Ford's 145-horsepower Mileage Maker Six.)

Ease down now on the throttle and you'll take off with all the dash and verve of a Thunderbird! For after all, the 58 Ford offers you the Thunderbird's own transmission and engine! Team Ford's Cruise-O-Matic Drive with a Thunderbird-powered V-8 engine, and save up to 15% on gasoline. It's like getting back 15¢ on every gas dollar!

Next hunt up the roughest roads you can find. Notice how bumps lose their bounce with Ford's softer-riding suspension system. Notice how Ford's exclusive Automatic Ride Control combines Angle-Poised Ball-Joint front suspension with long, tailored-to-weight rear springs so that you ride level... corner level... enjoy a "big car feel."

And Ford gives you more—much more in the way of riding comfort. Ford seats are wide—sofa-wide. You sit in a relaxed, natural position with Ford's Automatic Posture Control. And Ford front seats are bolted directly to the frame for greater security, too.

Always a leader in safety, Ford again has pioneered new features to protect you. New Safety-Twin taillights, for example, keep you safer because they give better warning to cars behind you. Besides being more than twice as large as taillights on competitive cars—and more prominently positioned—Ford taillights are more noticeable when brakes are applied. And of course, only Ford offers you famous Lifeguard Design—the whole family of safety features designed to protect you should an accident occur.

Then there are the hidden values that are yours when you choose Ford. The car is put together with fine-car precision. The finish is durable enamel—baked enamel that helps Fords keep that new-car shine. On the inside, too, Ford cars give you more insulation than any other cars in Ford's field.

What about choice? Did you know that Fords come in two sizes? There are 20 models including six station wagons and the Skyliner, world's only retractable hardtop. Its steel top disappears into the trunk in less than a minute—another example of the advanced engineering in all Fords.

Why not discover all you've been missing if you haven't driven a 58 Ford? Your Ford Dealer will check you out in a glamorous model and you can discover firsthand all the wonderful things that have happened to Fords. And remember: a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices shows unmistakably that Ford is lowest priced of the "low-price three" in 17 out of 19 comparable models!

So why not make tomorrow your day to drive a Ford? The keys are waiting for you at your Ford Dealer's showroom. See him and discover all the fun a Ford can be!

Israel Film Is Being Shown at Local Theatre

A film, "Israel in the Family of Nations," is being shown this week at the Community Theatre in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of that Eastern Mediterranean nation.

This is one of the first showings of the film, it is reported. It has been released by B'nai B'rith, Jewish welfare organization.

The film, which will be shown through Saturday, was made in Israel, showing the progress made by its people during the past decade.

A similar film has been loaned to the audio-visual department of the Kingston school system. It will be shown in city schools this week. The film depicts the life of a refugee boy in Israel.

Seymour Werbalowsky is president of the local B'nai B'rith. Merrill Stone is program chairman.

Contest Shapes Up For Presidency of NY Women's Club

GARDEN CITY (AP) — A contest for the presidency of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs is shaping up here at its 64th annual convention.

Before adjourning on Thursday, the 400 delegates from 217 clubs will elect a new president to succeed Mrs. William S. Shary, of Baldwin, L. I.

The official slate candidate to be presented today is Mrs. Walter F. Alt, of Buffalo, chairman of the resolutions committee.

Nominations from the floor are expected when Mrs. William H. Golding of Cobleskill, chairman of the nominations committee and a past president, presents the official slate.

Area Vols Share Co-op's $1,360 Reward for Calls

Carrying on its annual gesture of appreciation to area firemen, the Associated Co-operative Fire Insurance Co., Woodbridge, this week mailed checks totaling $1,360 to fire departments in Sullivan and Ulster Counties.

Each year the company takes this means of expressing its thanks to the volunteer firemen. As an additional token of regard this year, the company invited local fire chiefs to a dinner held in Monticello in February.

The payments made to the fire departments are based on $10 for each fire call to property insured with the company.

Lactation Averages Given on Area Herds

Lactation averages of three area Holstein herds were released today by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The averages are calculated on the two milkings a day, 305 day, mature equivalent basis commonly employed to provide a uniform basis for comparisons and selections.

Owners, number of cows in herd, average pounds of milk and fat, follow:

Joseph McAnlis, New Paltz, 27 cows, 13,703 pounds of milk and 519 pounds of fat.

Ridgely Farms, Stone Ridge, 64 cows, 16,775 pounds of milk and 622 pounds of fat.

Estate of Roy Wright, Pleasant Valley, 27 cows, 14,356 pounds of milk and 533 pounds of fat.

DEM HOPEFULS—These eight Democrats are among 15 leaders who are being mentioned as the party's possible 1960 presidential candidate. Adlai Stevenson, twice defeated by Mr. Eisenhower, still has considerable backing, although he says he will not run. Leading at this point is youthful Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts. The others are: David Lawrence, mayor of Pittsburgh; G. Mennen Williams, governor of Michigan; Robert B. Meyner, governor of New Jersey; Averell Harriman, governor of New York; Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Bold Space Age Stand Could Halt Jobless in Five Years

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country has to pour money into space developments for national defense. But what about developments that don't directly involve defense. Is it worth putting money into them?

The House Space Committee thinks so. It says in time the money spent now will pay for itself. It was this committee which late Monday approved a bill to set up a strong civilian agency to direct this country's nonmilitary space developments and explorations.

Weather, Global TV

When the committee talks about the money poured into such developments paying for itself it's thinking of weather forecasting, global television, jobs and transportation.

In its report the committee said this about the number of jobs that would be provided from work on space projects and all the things related to them: "Over just a 3½-year span, the employment related to the contracts of the Air Force Ballistic Missiles Division has surged from 5,000 to over 80,000 people."

"If the space age is entered by the United States with the boldness it deserves, the next five years should see all talk of unemployment in this country replaced by the greatest labor shortage in our experience."

Benefits to Spread

"Nor will this be profitless 'made' employment equivalent to the employment schemes of depression years, or the waste that inevitably is the price of war."

"On the contrary, the benefits of the space age will spread directly through an ever widening circle of subcontractors and specialty manufacturers, both large and small."

The committee even raised the prospect of rocket travel someday—for freight and passengers—as the cheapest way of quick delivery for both from one point on the earth to another.

"This is fact, not fantasy," the report said.

To show what space development would mean, the report quoted one of the witnesses before the committee—Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory—as saying: "Weather forecasting, in my opinion, will become a science instead of an art."

Satellites to Help

How would it be done? With the combined help of satellites and great computing machines. Then the report quoted from the testimony of another witness, Dr. Francis W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Bureau.

He said between 10 and 15 years ago the bureau sought to find out the value of weather forecasts and storm warnings to the general public and to the national economy.

He said: "The figures that were presented to us by business and agricultural interests were so high that we never have been quite willing to come out with the value for fear that someone might think we were exaggerating."

"They were well in excess of a billion dollars a year..."

Then he added: "The university extension service of one of the states estimated that five million dollars would be added to farm income in that state alone if forecasts for a period of five days or so were 100 per cent accurate."

Estimates Given

"For farming in general, the figure that was given me is 2½ billion a year. For the lumber industry, 45 million. For transportation, exclusive of air transport, 100 million."

"In the very important field of water resources... the values in the planning of how to handle water stored for irrigation, in the light of what the weather will be a few days or a few weeks ahead... the estimate is three billion a year."

"In retail marketing the value would be great. Certainly, they would be on the order of 50 million or 100 million per year."

"Now, these figures are all tentative... We feel sure that the figure would be several billion dollars a year."

waiting, the office switchboard buzzed again. And our telephone operator turned with a smile and said, "Call for you, Mrs. Dessauer."

First I got tangled up in the cord. Next I listened at the wrong end of the phone. Only after a few more seconds' delay did I manage to say, "Hello?" And then came my son's voice, clear and joyful: "Mother, you just became the grandmother of a little girl. And wait till you see her!"

And that's how the good old telephone ushered in the pride and joy of my life, my little granddaughter.

Sincerely,

Augusta Dessauer

phone call so special that I was... My sister and I were on vacation with my aunt in California. We had never been away from home and we missed our family very much. In fact, I packed my bag three different times to return to Mother.

But then I made a phone call home. All the way to Buffalo!

That call was a sure cure for the homesickness of two little girls far away from their mother and father. It was such a memorable experience that we still re-live that telephone call at family get-togethers.

Sincerely,

Mrs. William S. Anderson.

Babies, Christmas and fan letters to the telephone

As a shut-in and a widow, it's hard to describe the pleasure my phone brings me. A good example is what happened last Christmas Eve, which was also my birthday. I was all alone, and you can imagine how blue I felt. Then the phone rang. And who was it but an old friend in Toledo, Ohio. What's more, she'd rounded up 12 other people I knew! Then each one of them got on the line to wish me a Merry Christmas and a Happy Birthday. Well, all the time we talked I prayed God to keep back my tears of joy. How that telephone call lightened a heavy heart!

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Kathryn J. Martin
New York, N.Y.

The telephone is so much a part of our daily lives that most of us take it pretty much for granted.

But sometimes, what the telephone does is so very unusual, so very special, that we never forget it. We talk about our "most memorable phone call" for years. Some folks, like the ones here, even write fan letters to the telephone.

Most everybody has at least one extra-special story like these. More often, of course, the telephone serves in little, everyday ways. Helping out the housewife with the shopping. Keeping us in touch with friends and family—near or far. Standing ready to bring help in any emergency. Yet, for all it does, the telephone is one of your biggest bargains. Its price has gone up far less than most other things you buy.

Four Top Personalities Are Signed Here For Ellenville Music Festival Productions

Four more outstanding personalities of the musical stage signed contracts last week to appear in Ellenville Music Theatre Division of the Empire State Music Festival which will open on July 1st at Ellenville, New York.

Frank Forest, general manager of the Empire State Music Festival has announced that Orson Bean, Elizabeth Pritchard, Beth Parks and Keith Kaltenberg will each have featured roles in the music tent this summer.

Mr. Bean has signed to do the lead role in the production "Where's Charlie" which will be on stage at Ellenville for six performances beginning July 22. Elizabeth Pritchard is now under contract for two leading parts Mr. Forest announced. Miss Pritchard will have the role of Aunt Nettie in "Carousel" which will have six performances commencing on Tuesday, July 15.

The following week Miss Pritchard will appear as Donna Lucia in "Where's Charlie." Highlighting the second week of the Music Tent starting on Tuesday, July 8 will be the production of "Brigadoon" with Beth Parks playing Fiona.

Miss Parks has done the part many times, is a beautiful red head with a magnificent voice and is a genuine Scotswoman to boot.

Keith Kaltenberg is to be Mr. Snow for "Carousel." He will be well remembered for his part in the "Saint of Bleeker Street."

Mr. Kaltenberg also had the part of Herman in the Broadway smash hit "Most Happy Fella" but unfortunately will not be available for the same production which is to have the stage for the opening week of the Music Tent commencing July 1.

Mr. Forest also announced this week that Hal Schaefer has been signed to have charge of scenic production and to act as stage manager. "He is," Mr. Forest said, "one of the most imaginative men in the forefront of this phase of the theatrical world and has been most successful in developing scenic effects for the Arden Theatres."

In response to many inquiries, Mr. Forest made it known this week that the only matinee performance each week will be on Thursday.

A SECOND WREATH

Dear Mrs. Post: One of the girls in our office lost her father recently very suddenly. Our boss directed that a wreath be sent from the company, but none other than those in the Accounting Department knew of this. In the meantime, another girl solicited donations from among the office personnel and had collected over $20 for flowers. I know that a wreath had already been ordered, suggested to the collector that the cash contributions be turned over to the bereaved family in lieu of a second wreath of flowers. A controversial issue arose from still another person in the office who said that a cash offering would be in very bad taste. Will you please give us your opinion.

Answer: A cash offering, unless the family was known to be destitute, would have been in very bad taste. I hope you all decided on the second wreath.

Present to Son's Fiancee

Dear Mrs. Post: My son has just announced his engagement and I was told that it is up to the man's mother to buy his fiancée a personal present. Will you please tell me if this is true, and if so, have you any suggestions as to what I might give her?

Answer: There is no set rule, but it is a rather typical impulse of welcome on the part of a future mother-in-law to give her son's fiancée a present. If you have a piece of family jewelry that you could give her, that would be perfect; otherwise anything for her personal adornment.

Serving Salad

Dear Mrs. Post: When handing a salad bowl of greens around the table, should separate plates be provided at each place, or may the salad be put on the dinner plate?

Answer: If the salad is taking the place of vegetables, then it belongs on the plate with the meat. If there are vegetables besides, then a separate plate must be provided for the salad.

MRS. RICHARD CHARLES SMITH

Diehl - Smith Wedding Is Announced Here; Couple Plan to Make Port Ewen Their Home

Wedding vows were exchanged on Saturday, May 17, at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church between Miss Marie Diehl, daughter of Mrs. Marie Diehl of 81 Hone Street and Richard Charles Smith of 140 Stephan Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of 140 Stephan Street. The bride is also daughter of the late Woodrow Diehl.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Francis X. Toner, Woodrow Diehl, brother of the bride, and Roland Kelly served as altar boys.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ. Martin Kelly sang "Panis Angelicus," "Mother Beloved," "Ave Maria," "Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling."

White gladioli, snapdragons and pale pink carnations decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William Diehl of Harwich Street. She wore a gown of rosepoint lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a sequin scattered neckline. The very full skirt composed of tulle tiers edged with lace terminated in a brush train. The French illusion veil was shirred to a bridal crown of crystal pleated tulle encircled by a wreath of pearlized orange blossoms. The bride carried a mother of pearl prayer book with white feathered carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mary Ellen Duffner of 98 Glen Street, the bride's cousin, served as maid of honor. She wore a shell pink nylon chiffon gown styled with an off-the-shoulder draped neckline, fitted bodice and bouffant ballerina length skirt. Her crown of matching sequins and pearls held a circular veil. She carried a fireside basket of pink carnations, roses, snapdragons, daisies and ivy.

Mother of the bride wore a light blue sheath dress of embroidered linen styled with a moderately square neckline and a matching deep brimmed cloche accented with draped nylon tulle. A corsage of white roses was also worn.

Mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue sheath dress fashioned with square neckline accented with rhinestones, and full back panel in the skirt. She also wore a small pink flowered hat and a corsage of pink Rapture roses.

Charles Baechtle, of Port Ewen was the best man. Ushers included Marvin Miller and George Baechtle.

A reception was held at Tommy's Restaurant for approximately 75 guests.

The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Smith attended Moran-Spencerian School of Business and is employed as a switchboard operator by IBM.

Mr. Smith in the Services Department of IBM.

The couple will make their home in Port Ewen when they return from their wedding trip to Canada.

For traveling, the bride wore a pink print dress, navy blue coat in princess style and pink accessories. She also wore a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Our 25th Anniversary

Kingston, N. Y., May 20, 1958—There are times in everyone's lifetime that they are proud of their accomplishments. This is our time of pride. Last Thursday you read the newspaper facts of our growth from one to seven hair-stylists; from one to eight hair styling chairs; from one to seven shampoo basins; from a small beauty shop to a modern air conditioned salon . . . in other words, from a humble beginning to a public acknowledged modern salon.

We have become acclaimed as a beauty shop with personnel easy to know, easy to talk to and most of all, easy to acquire from the beauty that is sought. We deal in friendliness on an equal basis with beauty. You are given an equal and generous portion of each with every visit.

Your comfort is our desire while your beauty is in our custody. That is why our shop has been air conditioned to insure your utmost "ease and relaxation" in our up-to-date surroundings. That is why we have a shampoo basin at each chair to avoid your moving around just when you have attained the comfort "between operations" of your wave. That is why we have installed an air conditioning hair dryer which is thermostatically controlled to provide for your maximum ease. Your comfort and beauty are our prime objectives . . . that is why everything has been thought of to keep us "on target."

You wonder why we call our personnel "seven hair stylists" instead of Mickey and six operators. The reason is quite simple. After a period of tutelage from Mickey in our shop, each attendant has learned the necessary knowledge to qualify as a consultant and hair stylist to the better satisfaction of each customer. As in all schools, Mickey, as the teacher and professional, is in attendance for any question which may arise beyond the learning of the particular hair stylist. Every customer to our shop has come

Scholarship Candidate Is Announced Here; Ontera Student Accepted at New Paltz

NELLY DEVISSCHER

THOMAS MCCROSSON

Paul T. Runge, Guidance Director of the Ontera Central School, Boiceville, announced today that Thomas McCrosson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCrosson, Mt. Pleasant has been selected as a candidate for the scholarship offered by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company, to high school juniors in about 30 schools in the Central Hudson area. The students will compete for a four-year scholarship in either electrical or mechanical engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, totaling $4,000. The candidates for this program are selected on the basis of interests, academic standing, personality, leadership qualities and ability to get along with others. Students are enrolled in a three week orientation program, whereby they become familiar with all phases of the business operations of the company.

Thomas McCrosson is an active participant in the school's extracurricular program, being a member of Outing Club, Student Council, Honor Society, Intramurals and the School Band. He is also a member of the Football, Basketball and Baseball Teams.

Mr. Runge further announced that Nelly Devisscher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Divisscher, Olive Bridge, has been accepted for admission to the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, where she will pursue a program in elementary education. She has participated in the activity program of the school, being a member of the Outing Club, French Club, Intramural Program and editor of the school newspaper.

Rotary Dinner-Dance Scheduled Saturday

Rotary Club of Kingston will hold its annual Ladies' Night dinner-dance Saturday evening, May 24, at the Wiltwyck Country Club. A cocktail hour will be held at 6:30 with dinner at 8 o'clock. The committee, headed by Adrian Kaplan promises an evening of good fellowship for all Rotarians and their friends. Special entertainment is planned in addition to dancing to the orchestra of Wendell Scherer.

A feature of the evening will be the official homecoming welcome to Sam Scudder of the Kingston Rotary Club, who has served as District Governor of District 721 during the past year. This is the first time the local Rotary Club has been honored by having one of its members selected as district governor and the members will have a cordial welcome for "Sam" as he is known throughout the district which comprises 33 Rotary Clubs.

Members of the Rotary Club are urged to contact Adrian Kaplan or Arthur Patterson for reservations. Assisting Adrian Kaplan in arranging the dinner-dance are the following Rotarians: Arthur Patterson, August Foerschler, Jack Purvis, William Teegan, Richard Stewart, Amos Newcombe and Milton Grover.

Rita M. Herzog Weds Francis J. McCullough In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Colman's

Miss Rita M. Herzog, daughter of Mrs. Fred Herzog of Ulster Landing Road, became the bride of Francis J. McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McCullough of East Kingston, in a double ring ceremony on Saturday May 10, at 10 a. m. before a nuptial Mass at St. Colman's Church.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edmund V. Radford. Theodore Riccobono was at the organ. Martin Kelly sang "Mother Beloved," "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "Veni Jesu."

Vases of white gladioli, snapdragons, carnations and daisies decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her brother, A. Donald Herzog, the bride wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with a tiny collar and a yoke of Alencon lace, short sleeves and fitted bodice. The very full floor length skirt swept back into a brush train. A lateau bridal cap edged with laticed pearls secured the French illusion fingertip veil. The bride carried a cascade of white roses, iris and baby's breath.

Miss Mary E. Herzog, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua crystal with ballerina length skirt trimmed with yellow roses. Miss Herzog carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, iris and baby's breath.

Robert J. McCullough of 182 West Chester Street was best man for his brother. Ushers included Edward McCullough of East Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, and Joseph Fiore, East Kingston, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Members of the immediate family attended a wedding breakfast at the Kirkland Hotel.

The bride is office secretary for Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Her husband is a sales representative for National Cash Register Company in Poughkeepsie.

For her wedding trip the bride chose to wear a navy blue sheath dress with white accessories for traveling. She also wore a corsage of pink roses.

The couple plan to make their home on Schryver Street in Port Ewen when they return.

POWELL, Wyo. (AP) — Bob Robertson's car stalled near Powell late one night and he decided to leave it along the highway. The next morning he took a truck and chain to pull the stalled car into town. It was nowhere in sight. Robertson decided the car had been stolen and reported its theft to police. Returning home to obtain the vehicle registration number, he noticed the garage door ajar. There was the car. Some thoughtful friends had brought it home during the night.

Festival of Foods Inspires Tempting Low-Calorie Lunch

GOOD things in this pleasant low-calorie lunch include turtle consomme, Melba toast and shrimp-fresh vegetable salad.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
The annual Festival of Foods at New York's Coliseum is always a vital event in the life of food editors and the food-conscious public. This year it was inaugurated by an elaborate buffet supper at "21 Club" with Elsa Maxwell as hostess.

Alice Petersen, distinguished food writer, contributed her recipe for remarkable Chocolate Cheese Cake. John Krauss, a Long Island packer, saw to it that we all ate one of his unusually fine, sweet, mild-cured hams. Food processors from Finland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Morocco, Italy, France and other civilized countries beguiled our appetites with their gourmet items, and everyone present, happy and well fed, forgot about calories.

Next day, however, at the Festival of Foods itself, we selected some of the delicious items on display and arranged them into a satisfying low-calorie luncheon. Here is our light lunch menu!

Canned turtle consomme, 30 calories per 13-ounce can — approximately 10-12 calories per cup; Melba toast, the Melba with wheat germ added, 14 calories per slice; Lite-Diet bread, no added sugar or shortening, 45 calories per slice; Herbed salad dressing, delicious low-calorie dressing, 4 calories per teaspoon; Lunch-time Salad — asparagus stalks, tomato wedges, pimiento strips, chichory — approximately 60 calories per serving; Dry Roasted Peanuts, 1-1½ calories per peanut. These nuts are baked for 17 hours, the oils and fats evaporate in the baking; Festival Apple Fluff, a dessert, 75 calories per serving.

Festival Apple Fluff (Serves 6)
Two cups fresh, unsweetened applesauce, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 4 tablespoons cold water, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg whites (¼ cup), 2 tablespoon lemon juice.

Soften gelatin in water. Heat 1 cup applesauce and stir in softened gelatin. Add lemon juice to remaining applesauce and blend into first mixture. Sprinkle sugar over egg whites and beat until glossy. Lightly fold into applesauce. Place in individual serving glasses and chill thoroughly. Serve garnished with slice of unpeeled apple. (75 calories per serving.)

TOMORROW'S DINNER:
Curry of lamb, chutney, dry roasted peanuts, chopped green pepper, fluffy rice, mixed green salad, apple fluff, coffee, tea, milk.

Port Ewen Group To Hear Plans of '59 Celebration

Harry Rigby, Jr., Ulster County chairman for the Hudson-Champlain celebration, will be guest speaker Thursday night at a meeting of the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association.

The meeting, scheduled at 8 o'clock, will be held at the Port Ewen Fire Hall.

Rigby will tell in detail of some of the plans for the celebration and how Port Ewen can best participate. He will also answer questions pertinent to the celebration.

The business group has received the permit to lay the library sidewalk and work will start on the project next Saturday morning. All volunteer workers will turn out at that time to do their bit in getting the work done as speedily as possible. John Potter is chairman of the committee.

The house numbering committee, of which John Spinnenweber is chairman, reported this week that several meetings of the committee have been held and that much progress is being made in getting the preliminary work done.

Rita Bonville, chairman of the employment committee, also reports that quite a few prospective employers have listed their names with her. She asks that those seeking work get in touch with her. It is not essential that one has to be a member of the organization to take advantage of this service.

The work to be done in Ross Memorial Park is temporarily halted due to some drainage problems which have to be adjusted, it was reported by the committee. When this is done, residents will be asked to volunteer some of their time to help complete the work. It is hoped to get it in shape for use this summer.

No Sacks for WACS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—There'll be no sacks for the WACS. "Hattie Carnegie designed our uniforms in 1950—to fit," says Lt. Col. Hattila W. Addison, chief of recruiting for the Women's Army Corps. "We have dress blues and taupes and in the next two years we're getting greens. But chemises and trapezes never!"

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle of the metals finds one of the oldest used by man stepping out to regain some lost markets and to invade some new ones in the nuclear and missile age.

Copper is chalking up some successes — such as its use as a heat absorbent in missile cones re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

But coppermen are being warned to make more research effort if they want copper to catch up with its rival metals.

Copper Hard Hit

Copper has been hard hit by the recession. It also has been hit by other metals stepping in as substitutes when copper was scarce and high priced. It has been hit by the changing armament picture which now stresses specialized metal forms rather than gross bulk of the older ones. Example: Delicate electronic missiles now vs. quantities of shell casings.

While competing metals were fighting hard to extend their markets, copper seemed for a long time content to concentrate on expanding production to take care of a big world demand.

Recession Makes Change
The recession is changing that. There's an excess of copper instead of a scarcity—stocks of unsold copper in the United States at a 19 year high — price weakness instead of high prices, curtailed production instead of expansion.

New fields that may open bigger markets for copper are to be found in both military and civilian goods. Special copper wire is used in missiles. One redstone missile is said to use 775 pounds of copper wire. Brass products are used in the fuel system of rockets. Copper alloys go into the tubing, valves and other specialized components of the new weapons.

Cone Absorbs Heat

The Air Force ballistic missile division is reported to have chosen copper or copper based materials for heat sink structures in the operational nose cone of some of the biggest missiles. The metal's resistance to heat shock helps the cone absorb heat on its re-entry into the atmosphere from outer space. Stainless steel's heat resistance also is used in the cones.

In the civilian field coppermen look for new markets in such coming things as heat pumps, solar heated homes and controlled fusion. Production of fresh water from salt is expected to involve either electricity or heat and copper counts on playing a big part in either of these methods.

Parley Hears Mental Health Aids Evaluated

ALBANY — Dr. Robert Weiss Monday night called for an evaluation of present methods of meeting the mental health problem at the dinner session of the third annual conference of the New York State Association of Community Mental Health Boards.

The conference, now in its third day at the Hotel Syracuse, is devoted to the theme "Community Mental Health Programs — Relationships and Resources."

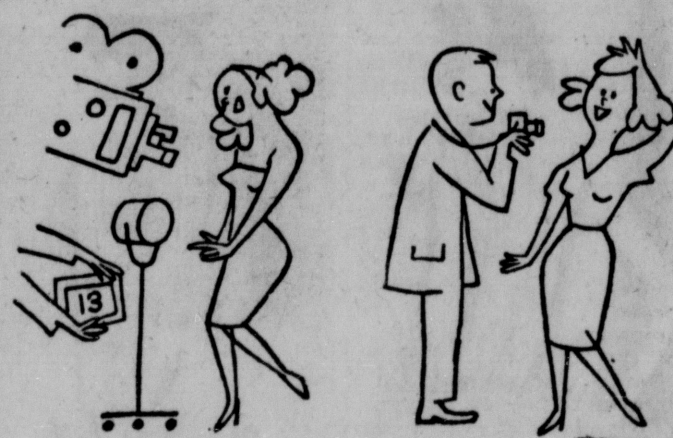

Dr. Paul H. Hoch, commissioner of Mental Hygiene, served as toastmaster.

Dr. Weiss, who is associate in the department of psychiatry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, raised the question "How do we know that what we are doing has any effect on the problem of mental illness?"

Dr. Christopher F. Terrence, director of Rochester State Hospital, is the principal speaker at this morning's session.

Some 300,000 New Jersey residents commute daily to jobs in New York City and Philadelphia.

Red Cross Fund Drive Goes Over Quota by $235

Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross today exceeded the goal of $36,000 in the 1958 campaign for members and funds. With several areas still to report, Robert J. Dalton, fund chairman, reported receipts in the amount of $36,235.43.

In addition to the expressions of appreciation from fellow chapter workers, Dalton was presented the American National Red Cross Citation for Services signed by General Lucius D. Clay, National Red Cross Chairman, 1958 Red Cross Campaign and E. Roland Harriman, chairman, American National Red Cross.

Volunteer Spirit

"The volunteer spirit in Red Cross is its greatest asset," Dalton said. "The fund planning committee, division chairmen, the house-to-house canvassers, all worked untiringly to make the campaign a success. Chairman of the Advance Gift Division, Harry E. Coale, raised $19,930, against a $14,600 quota. The following divisions also exceeded their goals: Sixth Ward, Kingston, and the townships of Denning, Gardiner, Hurley, Marlboro, New Paltz, Plattkill, Rochester, Rosendale and Woodstock."

Generous Response

"The generous response of the public was magnificent to our appeal for continued support of the Red Cross program and proved an awareness of the need of its services," Dalton pointed out. He acknowledged with gratitude the contributions of the newspapers and radios in publicizing the Red Cross appeal.

The achievement of success in our 1958 campaign and members and funds means that the Red Cross can continue on the job for all of us in the year ahead," Dalton concluded.

Kleinert Wing Dedication Draws More Than 200

More than 200 persons gathered to witness the formal dedication ceremonies for the new Kleinert wing of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen Sunday under perfect weather conditions. Guests came from many places, with Lenore G. Marshall, New York poet and writer, and donor of the gallery, as guest of honor. Mrs. Marshall was accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Marshall, and Catherine Freedman, all of New York City.

The story of Woodstock's newest wing, the Kleinert gallery, was unfolded in a ceremony that lasted only slightly more than a half hour.

Konrad Cramer, president emeritus of the Guild, introduced President Isabel Doughty, who read a message from Mrs. Marshall, who gave the new wing in memory of her mother, Mrs. Harry A. Guinzburg, and her aunt, Hermine E. Kleinert.

Also Gave Piano

This attractive gallery will serve Woodstock in many cultural ways. Mrs. Guinzburg was a gifted musician and a devotee of chamber music. Her Steinway grand piano was also a gift to the Guild from Mrs. Marshall. The charming and inspiring paintings that were shown Saturday were all the work of Miss Kleinert, who was widely known and loved in this area.

Following Miss Doughty's message, Ilse Sass played a sarraband by Rameau and two songs from Schubert. Ruth Conway, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hans J. Cohn of Woodstock, sang "Bless This House."

Konrad Cramer emphasized Miss Kleinert's art in his brief speech. He noted that she was a lover of nature and much of her work was inspired by the good earth and is vibrant with life and color. Two of her favorites had been "Springtime" and "Autumn." Selections from the Kleinert collection will always be hung in the new gallery.

Dorothy Varian closed with personal reminiscences of Miss Kleinert and then announced that Bernard Steffen was the Kleinert Award winner for 1958.

Rev. Todd Feted By Odd Fellows

The Rev. Harvey I. Todd who will retire next month after 34 years as pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock, was honored by members of Bearsville Lodge, No. 533, I.O.O.F. and Agape Rebekah Lodge, No. 623 at a special service in the church Sunday night. Edgar Baker of Wittenberg, chaplain of Bearsville Lodge said a prayer and at the close of the service, eulogized the Rev. Mr. Todd, a member of the lodge for his service to his church and to the community at large.

A large number of the Reformed Church congregation also attended the services.

Wittenberg Club Will Sponsor Dance

Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will sponsor a square dance at the clubhouse on Saturday, May 24, at 8:30 p. m. Fred T. Russell's band will furnish the music.

Proceeds of the dance will go to Harold Effner, one of the injured Wittenberg firemen. Refreshments will be served.

Healing Power Topic At Christ Scientist

The healing power of the Christ, Truth will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday in Woodstock in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

Christ Jesus' healing of Simon's wife's mother who "was taken with a great fever" (Luke 4) will be among the selections read from the King James Version of the Bible.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (210: 11 - 16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

Power of Pentecost Topic for Methodists

The sermon topic for the Methodist Church of the Woodstock Parish for Sunday, May 25, is "The Power of Pentecost." We say a great deal about the power which Christians are supposed to possess, and we marvel from time to time that the church apparently places more emphasis upon economic and material power than upon "spiritual" power. The question must be asked, What is the nature of spiritual power? And how do we get it? And what does it do for us? We welcome each of you to worship with us in the hope that these questions may be answered.

The MYF of the Woodstock Parish will meet on Friday evening at the Wittenberg youth center at 7 p. m. All interested young people are invited to attend.

Saturday, May 24, has been designated as a work day at the Wittenberg Methodist Church. The men of the church are urged to come and join together in some painting and general repair work. The work will begin at 9 a. m.

Rotary Club Plans For Ladies Dinner

Plans for another ladies dinner were discussed by members of the Rotary Club at their weekly meeting at Deane's.

President Walter S. Van Wagenen said the Monday after Memorial Day might be a suitable date for the dinner.

The president also continued a report on the program at the recent district meeting of Rotary at Grossinger's. He said the method of procedure for election of a district governor was discussed at length at the meeting but no decision was reached.

Van Wagenen also pointed out that the Rotary conference also emphasized the importance of Rotary enlarging its scope in civic and community affairs.

Contempt Action Dropped Against Lansdell Manager

A contempt action pending in Supreme Court in New York City against Austin J. Boyd Jr., local manager of the Lansdell Corporation, has been dropped, following his appearance before Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins Thursday.

Boyd, manager of the local plant of the Lansdell Company, appeared last Thursday with his counsel, N. Le Van Haver, and under oath answered questions put to him by Senator Tompkins who is investigating alleged road oil "kickbacks" to certain officials.

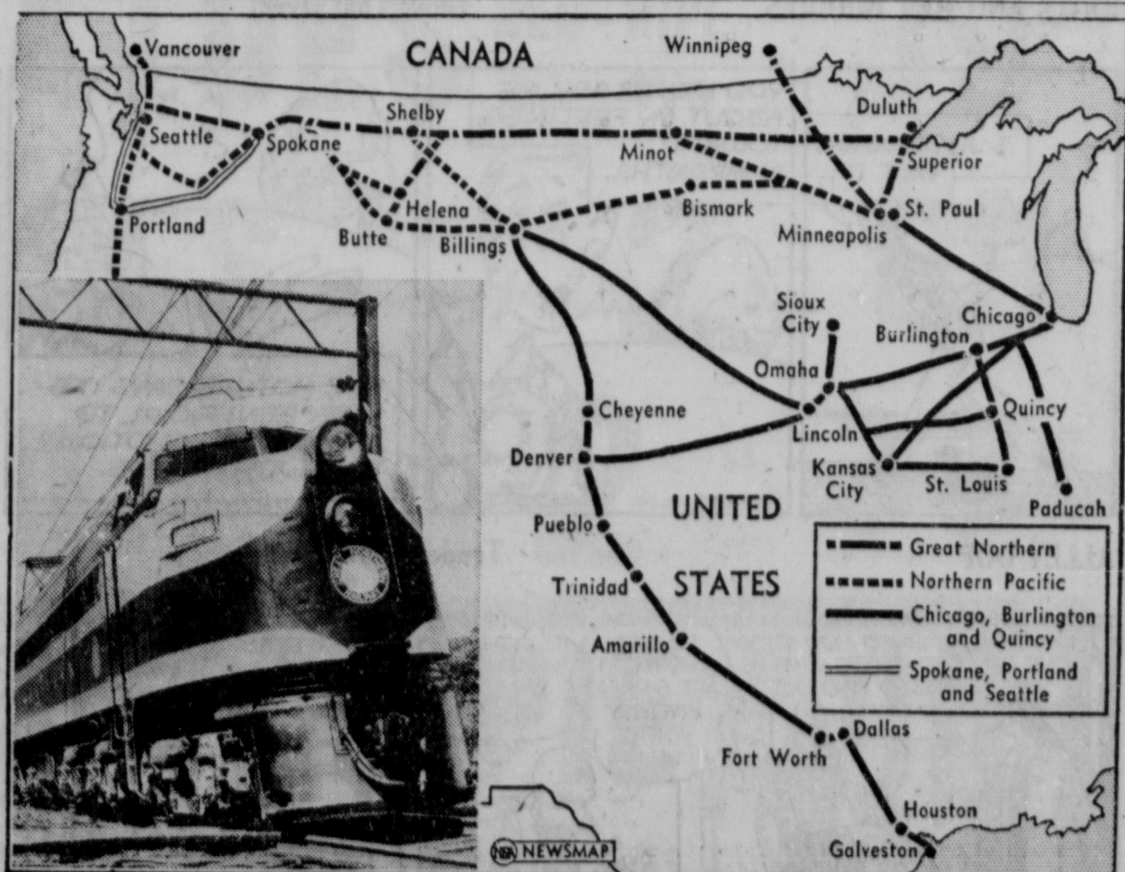

The informal questioning by Special Prosecutor Tompkins was given under oath, Boyd's counsel stated.

Boyd had refused to answer certain questions before the Reuter Commission and an action was pending in New York for contempt. Efforts of the Reuter Investigations Commission to serve Boyd in the contempt action failed.

When the Reuter Investigations Commission went out of existence the matter was referred to Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins, who was named to investigate alleged "kickbacks" in Ulster County. Tompkins said the motion pending in New York, referred to him from the Reuter Commission report, would be withdrawn if Boyd answered satisfactorily questions put to him.

At that time it was indicated by counsel for Boyd that he would appear and answer questions put to him.

London to Bombay via the Suez Canal is 6,300 miles; around the cape of Good Hope, it is 10,800 miles.

MERGING ROADS—The Great Northern Railway may merge with three other railroads, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Northern Pacific Railway and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle, to form the nation's longest and second-richest rail line. John M. Budd, president of Great Northern, said that the merger plans should go before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington before the end of the year. The proposed network (see Newsmap) stretches from Illinois to California and from North Dakota to Texas. It would have 27,000 miles of track in 18 states. This is larger than the track mileage of any U.S. company now operating. The merged road would also have track in two Canadian provinces, Manitoba and British Columbia.

Plans for June Conference Made By Police Group

A meeting of executive committee members of the Police Conference of the State of New York was held Monday at Laurel County Club, Monticello, for the purpose of discussing matters to come before the State conference in June. An agenda for the conference, which will be held June 16-19 at Laurel County Club in Monticello, was prepared and will be ready for the conference.

Peter Keresman, executive secretary of the State Police Conference, reported 118 members of the executive committee, which consists of the presidents of the various units of police in the cities, villages, towns and county of Nassau, in attendance at the Monday session.

The Police Conference of the State of New York represents 196 police organizations throughout the state with a membership of approximately 45,000 police officers. It is anticipated about 500 delegates will attend the June conference.

He Pleads Guilty In Stock Swindle

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — The second of two Canadians charged in what federal agents call a $100,000 uranium stock swindle has pleaded guilty to three counts of mail fraud.

Alexander D. Freeman, 28, of Toronto was put on probation for two years after he pleaded Monday. Federal District Judge Harold Burke suspended sentences of two-year concurrent terms on each of three counts.

Federal agents said that the stock was in a company named Metro Minerals, Ltd., and that dozens of people in New York State and Canada were swindled.

Freeman and Joseph R. Fleming, 33, also of Toronto, pleaded guilty to counts involving $5,000 in stock sales to Dr. John Kuhl of Hammondport in Steuben County in 1955. Fleming pleaded guilty last March and is serving one year in prison.

Both were arrested by postal authorities last summer in New York City. The post office worked with the Ontario (Can.) Securities Commission in making the arrests.

FOR KIDS OF ALL AGES — Like the electric train for Christmas, Dad is going to enjoy this new toy rocket launcher just as much as junior. A hand-operated magnetic crane lifts the rocket from its flat-car cradle and swings it to the tower platform. The motorized tower, moving on its own track, transports the rocket to the launching platform where it is lowered onto a spring-loaded launching pad. As the motorized tower moves out of the way, the count down begins on the remote control panel, and the seconds tick away . . . 5-4-3-2-1-FIRE! Firing button is pressed and the rocket blasts off. The rocket has a safety polyurethane foam nose cone.

47 Graves Are Eternal Mark Of 1957 Tornado

KANSAS CITY — A simple memorial is the only structural reminder that a year ago today a tornado whirled through suburban Ruskin Heights at more than 500 miles an hour.

Forty-seven graves are an eternal reminder.

The flattened homes, the unbelievable rubble, the upturned cars are no longer there. Ruskin Heights has been rebuilt.

The work that has been done is not so much reconstruction as it is resurrection.

If you didn't go through those frenzied minutes yourself, you have to look at pictures to see the change.

Shapely Lines Now

From the air today the streets form the same gentle S curves they did after the tornado. But then they looked mushy, like a wheatfield after harvest. Today you are struck by the sharply defined lines of the light rooftops.

The tornado was spawned at 5:30 p. m. from black rain clouds at Emporia, Kan., some 100 miles away. It moved northeastward, killing at Ottawa and Hill City in Kansas, destroyed Martin City, Mo., and did its worst at Ruskin Heights.

Thirty-nine persons were killed and 483 homes destroyed or damaged there.

Faith, Hope, Love

The memorial, a brick structure about 15 feet high, is located at the center of the devastated Ruskin Heights area. It was dedicated Monday while 2,000 persons watched.

It has three windows at the top. "They symbolize faith, hope and love," said N. M. Roach, president of the Ruskin Heights Homes Assn. "They are the things that rebuilt Ruskin Heights."

Dies of Injuries

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — John Malcolm Closson, 38, of Redwood City, Calif., died Monday of injuries suffered Sunday when his sports car plunged off U. S. Highway 40 in Yuba Gap in the High Sierra.

Highway patrolmen said his car skidded more than 200 feet before crashing down a rocky bank.

He died in a Sacramento hospital.

Closson formerly lived in Schuylerville, N. Y.

SAFETY AWARD FOR CALLANAN'S—Lester Van Alstyne, superintendent of Callanan Road Improvement Company's Plant No. 3 at Kingston, accepts 100 per cent safety award recently at the awards dinner of Associated Industries of New York State Inc., in Poughkeepsie. Callanan's, Ulster Knife Co., Ellenville; Hercules Powder Corp., Port Ewen, and Ferroxcube Corporation of America, Saugerties, won the awards in the 33rd annual state-wide accident prevention campaign of Associated Industries. (l-r) B. J. Van Wickler, executive secretary of Mid-Hudson Industrial Association; Van Alstyne; William J. Mair, vice president and general manager of International Business Machines Corporation, Poughkeepsie, and Whitman Daniels, director of public relations for Associated Industries.

Poll Indicates Opposition to Ulster Zoning

A mail poll conducted by the Taxpayers and Voters Association of the Town of Ulster, Inc., shows that 63 per cent prefer no zoning of any kind in the township, it was disclosed today. Thirty-one per cent would like spot zoning by local town ordinance as the need arises.

Only six per cent favored the zoning plan as prepared by Clark Associates of Rye.

Sixty per cent of the ballots mailed by the association were returned.

The returns paralleled those of a poll conducted recently by the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association.

A letter has been mailed to the town board embodying the results of the poll.

There will be a meeting of the association at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Lake Katrine School at which time the speaker will be Charles Adler of the Poughkeepsie office of Central Hudson.

Adler's topic will be industrial development, its future and potentialities.

Carmine Sabino, president of public is cordially invited to attend.

Ohio's 1957 apple crop was the largest since 1950.

John Jones went to a western dude ranch for his vacation. A talkative and sarcastic individual, he would laugh gleefully at the frantic antics of beginners to retain their seats. This annoyed the paying guests no end, and they talked to the proprietor about doing something to put the nuisance in his place. John had never been on a horse before and readily admitted it. So when the campaign started to get him into the saddle he tried many ways to wriggle out of it. However, he was finally pinned down to agreeing to ride a horse on the following day. That night he went to the proprietor and asked him to give him the easiest horse on the ranch to ride.

The next day the proprietor showed John the horse selected for him. "Since you say you have never ridden," he said, "I've picked a horse who has never been ridden before. That should make it quite easy for you two amateurs to get together."

Converge on Parliament

LONDON (AP) — Some 20,000 people converged on Parliament from every corner of Britain today for the country's biggest anti-nuclear demonstration.

lining up three deep outside the House of Commons this morning to lobby with the House members from their home districts.

Demonstrators traveled through the night from Scotland, Wales and the north of England.

After Serving 17 Years

Torture Confession Gives Man Freedom

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who proclaimed his innocence since he went to prison 17 years ago on a first-degree murder conviction has won reversal of his conviction.

The U. S. Court of Appeals voted unanimously Monday to set aside the conviction of William Wade, 49-year-old New Yorker.

Convicted in 1941, the court said Wade had been convicted in Westchester County in 1941 on the strength of confessions extracted from him under methods "most of us would consider torture."

Wade had been found guilty of being an outside accomplice in a break at Sing Sing Prison in which four men died.

Wade has maintained his innocence since his arrest in the streets of Ossining three hours after the prison break. He took his case to every appeals court in the state without success.

He had no attorney and filed handwritten briefs quoting from law books in Clinton Prison at Dannemora, where he was confined.

Extorted Confessions

Finally, his case came to the attention of two lawyers, Henry C. Roemer Jr. and Philip C. Potter Jr. Potter was a tax attorney who never had handled a criminal case.

The lawyers filed an appeal to the U. S. Court of Appeals in which it was alleged that Wade had been convicted on the basis of extorted confessions.

The court declared that "without the confession there was insufficient evidence to convict him."

Scores Treatment

The court added: "Taking a man to the State Police barracks, keeping him incommunicado for 23 hours, during which he was permitted no sleep, with no food whatsoever and only two glasses of liquid after many hours, submitting him to constant questioning despite his denials, is not only degrading and uncivilized, but is obviously coercive."

It is now up to Westchester County to attempt an appeal, re-try Wade or allow him to go free. Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi said a decision hadn't been made.

Pianist Is Given Great Ovation at Carnegie Recital

NEW YORK (AP) — A lanky, blond Texan who plays the piano was a hero in his own country Monday night.

All but two of the 2,840 persons who jammed Carnegie Hall welcomed home Van Cliburn with a tumultuous ovation.

At the intermission that followed the first of his two offerings, Cliburn was able to report backstage, as he changed his sweat-soaked shirt, that the feeling was mutual.

"I'm so happy to be home again," he said.

Today the city gives the 23-year-old Texan a ticker-tape parade. The two who did not join in the applause at the recital were Harvey Lavan Cliburn Sr. and his wife, the former Rildia Bee O'Bryan. They seemed transfixed with the reception their son had received.

This was the first time Cliburn was heard here since he won the international Tchaikovsky contest in Moscow a month ago and became somewhat of an international good will ambassador.

Sure Sign of Summer

CHICAGO (AP) — A sure sign that summer is near: The famed Buckingham Fountain in downtown Grant Park began operating today for a 4½-month run that looks like a splashing success.

The world's largest fountain, which cascades and sprays thousands of gallons of water a minute, has been one of Chicago's biggest summer attractions since it was dedicated in 1927. The fountain has Loop skyscrapers for a backdrop to the west and Lake Michigan to the east.

It will be in operation through Sept. 30. The last half hour of each day will be a major color display in which the central spire of water rises 135 feet above the lower basin while bathed in changing colors.

Falls to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — While walking his dog on the roof of the building in which he lived, John Gunning, 69, a blind man, fell five stories to his death Monday night. The dog, a little terrier, ran frightened down to the apartment where Gunning lived with relatives.

arts editor, wrote in his review of Cliburn's recital: "He had a spectacular technique, and an impressive tone and body that will grow to match it."

Happy Times

Secret Scattergood Has Fun Doing Favors for Strangers

By MARIE DAERR

Mrs. J. W., in her 70's, runs for her scissors whenever her town's newspaper prints a story about a person in the "golden" years.

Maybe it's a story about a 90-year-old who still can dance a jig. Or a retired accountant who likes to build bird houses. Or an elderly couple with a hobby of photographing covered bridges.

Mrs. J. W. clips the story. She sends the clipping and one dollar—the price of a glossy print of the original picture—to the newspaper's photography department.

Then she visits her neighborhood variety store and picks up a pretty but inexpensive frame.

That's when Mr. J. W. gets into the act. It is his job to drop off the framed picture at the home of the delighted subject of the story. He does this fast, without saying who the giver is. In fact, he hardly waits for the happy, stammered, "Why, thank you!"

This project has been Mrs. J. W.'s hobby for 10 years. Mrs. J. W. makes one request—which the newspaper has respected. She wants to stay anonymous.

So the newspaper hasn't written about her. And the photographers won't tell callers the name of the person who requested a print.

"When I stop doing this, you can write about me," Mrs. J. W. tells the paper. "But, while I'm doing it, staying anonymous is half the fun."

Mrs. J. W. sets aside a little fund for this sunshine-spreading project.

"It costs practically nothing," she says. "And it gives these people—and us—a lot of happiness."

Mrs. J. W. needn't worry about getting bored. Her hobby will take care of that. And it's my bet she's not going to stop enjoying her project as long as she has a dollar left in her bank account! What do you think?

Q—I'm 70 and I like gardening. I've monkeyed around in the yard all my life. All of a sudden, my young relatives and friends seem to be ganging up on me with a "Huh? You better quit that at your age?" routine. I tell them what I'm doing isn't nearly so taxing as the golf my elderly neighbor plays. What do you say?—B. C.

A—I'd say go ahead, in moderation. Doctors claim gardening is a fine tonic, so long as you have sense enough not to overdo. Happy weeding!

Q—I'm 68 years old. If my earnings go over $1,200 a year, must I report this to my Social Security office?—L. A.

A—Yes. You must do this until you are 72.

Newburgh's Paul Schnitt Blanks Kingston High Again, 1-0

Lefty Outduels Paul Gardner, Fabrizio Stars

If Kingston High's baseball team doesn't see Paul Schnitt of Newburgh Free Academy again it will be too soon.

The Maroons have been blanked twice in the DUSO this season and the NFA southpaw has turned the trick both times and oddly enough by the same 1-0 score.

In the season's opener, Schnitt set the Maroons down with two hits, yesterday he improved that performance by giving up only one safety, to Hobie Armstrong in the third inning, a solid smash up the middle. The game was called after 5½ innings because of rain.

Schnitt was exceptionally tough in the clutches. The locals had several opportunities to break the ice but he bore down and managed to retire the side. He was so effective that only Armstrong reached third base.

Frankie Sammons reached second on a walk and a sacrifice in the second, but the curveballer fanned the next two batters. He got into a mild jam in the fifth, giving up his second base on balls to Danny Van Wagenen. An infield error gave Gardner a life and men were on first and second. But he got Armstrong on an easy pop to end the frame.

Gardner was equally effective save for a triple by Tony Fabrizio in the third inning which set up the game's winning run. He later scored on Pete Gamma's sacrifice fly into left field. Van Wagenen made a fine catch on the play but his off-balance throw to the plate was a hair late of kicking the runner.

Ironically, the only other hit off Gardner was a single by Fabrizio in the fifth, but he died on base.

Schnitt set down 11 on strikes against Gardner's two. The Kingston hurler walked three.

The loss for the Maroons was their third against two wins in the league and four and four overall. It was NFA's second against three in the league.

The Maroons will be at Hyde Park to face Roosevelt High today, weather permitting, and will be host to Port Jervis at Dietz Stadium Thursday.

Nutmeg Driver Rhinebeck First

Chick Stockwell of Woodbury, Conn., 1957 Mutual champion, throttled his father's G.M.C.-powered Chevrolet to victory Saturday night in the 30-lap feature at Rhinebeck Speedway.

Bob Snyder of Kingston lost a wheel in traffic and climbed over other cars on the—your guess is—13th lap. His car zoomed high into the air but, fortunately, landed right side up and Snyder emerged unhurt.

Little Joe Messina of Troy was second in main event. George Rockefeller drove his 1937 Plymouth to victory in the sedans competition.

2-Under on IBM Course

Kaufman, Provenzano Pace Wiltwyck Golfers

The new slim-trim Bill Kaufman could be the Golfer of the Year this 1958 season in Kingston.

Always a swinger of tremendous potential, he apparently has settled into a low scoring groove that will pay big dividends this year.

Kaufman had first low net with a 75-4-69 in the Class A division of Wiltwyck Country Club's first appearance in the Hudson River Golf Association Saturday.

The next day he bounced back with a spectacular, 2-under-par 70 over the sprawling par-72 IBM Country Club layout at Poughkeepsie, as the IBM swingers defeated Wiltwyck in a team match, 3½ to 2½. Kaufman was two-under on the rugged front nine and match par figures after the turn. IBM has par figures of 38-34-72.

Streamlined Hitter
A weight reducing program and abandonment of a myriad of theories about the swing are contributing factors to the renaissance of Kaufman's game.

Kaufman and John Burch, who posted 39-38-77, scored a 9-0 shutout over the No. 2 IBM tandem of Bill Veach and George Niznik, Maurice Davenport (79) and "Lonesome George" Cosenza (85) edged Rusty Nagakuri and Tony Garzonne, 5-4, for another Wiltwyck triumph.

IBM took the No. 1 match, 7½ to 1½, with Sol Molella and John Cwik combining to beat Harvey Bostic (75) and Ronnie Marks (83).

Provenzano Scores
John Provenzano won first place in the low net division of the HRGA tournament at Poughkeepsie Country Club at Newburgh. He posted 36 gross and had 14 handicap for a net 72. Provenzano narrowly missed an ace on the 175-yard 16th hole, his tee shot landing four inches from the cup.

John A. Hornbeck of the host club won low gross honors in the Class A division with a 73. Jim Peeler of Dutchess Country Club had 80-8-72 and Billy Robison of Poughkeepsie scored 76-4-72 to tie for second in low net behind Kaufman.

The first event of the season for the HRGA attracted 133 entries with Wiltwyck leading the field with 35.

The match with IBM was played by two-man teams contesting for nine Nassau points. The summaries:

Sal Molella (79) and John Cwik (76), IBM, defeated Harvey Bostic (39-36-75) and Ronnie Marks (44-39-83), W, 7 to 2.

Bill Kaufman (36-34-70) and John Burch (39-38-77), W, 4 to 1.

Bill Veach (74) and George Niznik (80), IBM 9 to 0.

Ray Distel (83) and Bob Meritt (79), IBM, d Brian Smith (45-40-85) and Bud Leininger (44-38-82), W, 5½ to 3½.

Herb Mulroy (78) and Jim

Molinaro (75), IBM, d Charles J. Turk 41-41-82 and Bob Daley (44-39-83), W, 7½ to 1½.

Arnold Cecchini (80) and George Veach (74), IBM, d Bill Marks (44-36-80) and Reggie Palen (47-33-80), W, 7½ to 1½.

Maurice Davenport (38-41-79) and George Cosenza (43-42-85) d Rusty Nagakuri (83) and Tony Garzonne (81), IBM, 5 to 4.

Roosevelt Trims Poughkeepsie 9 For Second Loss

Roosevelt Central handed Poughkeepsie its second straight defeat on the diamond yesterday, clubbing out a 11-8 win at Hyde Park.

The Presidents clubbed Jim Tyrall, the starter, and two other Bridge City flingers in the high scoring fray which was highlighted by a bevy of extra base blows.

Carl Cerniglia and Deke Johnson, the third Pioneers pitcher, clubbed homers. Herb Boschen rapped a bases loaded double in the fourth inning, but it failed to overcome a five-run second inning by Roosevelt.

Susce Will Fly, If Necessary

DETROIT — Pitcher George Susce, who joined the Detroit Tigers last week from Boston and said, "I won't fly," huddled with General Manager John McHale for 30 minutes Monday and said: "I'll fly any time it is necessary to make a game."

McHale previously had said Susce's abhorrence of air travel could buy him a ticket to the minor leagues.

Members of Tigers 1907 Team to Meet For June 28 Game

DETROIT — The three surviving members of the Detroit Tigers' 1907 pennant-winning team will meet at the Hall of Fame and Old Timers baseball game at Briggs Stadium June 28.

President Harvey R. Hansen said Ty Cobb, Sam Crawford and Davey Jones all replied they would attend the celebration.

Crawford and Cobb are members of Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Cramer and Pete Zeel trounced Charles Peritz 6-2, 6-1.

In the doubles, Fuscardo and Zeel teamed up to whip Cramer and Charlie Rosenthal 6-1, 6-1, and the team of Tom DeWitt-Davite Gibbs bounced Levitz and Peritz, 7-5, 6-0.

Two teams tied for top honors in the Northeastern New York PGA pro-member tournament yesterday at Shaker Ridge in Albany with five-under-par, best-ball 66s.

Pro Bob Haggerty of Edison (Schenectady) and Babe Russo of Amsterdam carded 33-33-66 to share first place with pro Bob Cronin of Queens Village, Warrensburg, and Don Mangino of the host club, who posted 34-32-66.

Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill, who slumped to an 82 on his own ball, did not place with his local partners. Gerlak fired 40-42 in the pro division.

Two other teams tied for third place. They were Joe Creavy, pro at Colonie, who played with Cleo Alberts, Western Turnpike and posted a 34-34-68 and John Gaucas, Van Schaick Island Country Club pro, who teamed with Gene Berardi of Twaalfskill with a 35-33-68.

Mangino Top Amateur
Mangino, former Eastern New York Golf Association champion, and Gary Shore, also of Shaker Ridge, tied for the amateur net prize. Mangino shot 75-4-71 and Shore, who won the 36-hole Governor's Club at the same course Saturday, had 80-9-71.

Frank Stuhler of Antlers was low pro with 36-38-74.

Gerlak and Kit Mangano of Edison carded 36-38-74. The local pro and Jimmy Fuller of Twaalfskill posted 38-39-77.

George Hughes, the Twaalfskill club champion, paired with Jim Murray of Amsterdam for 39-36-75.

Next Monday's event, also a pro-amateur, is slated for Colonie Country Club.

The pro scores:
Frank Stuhler, Antlers, 36-38-74.

Grays Threaten Triplets First Place Position

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Binghamton Triplets of the Eastern League have something new in the American League—a red-hot rival for first place.

The Triplets are leading the league's northern division today by a half game over the Williamsport Grays. Williamsport scored three runs in the ninth inning Monday at Binghamton to defeat the New Yorkers 5-2.

York maintained its 3½-game edge as the southern division leader with a two-run rally in the ninth inning to defeat Reading 4-3 at York. Lancaster, in second place in the south, edged Allentown 5-4 in 10 innings at Allentown.

The Albany at Springfield game was rained out.

Pitcher Jerry Kettle of Williamsport tied in the ninth after fanning 10 Triplets and allowing nine hits. Marco Naimini got the final two outs after three singles pushed over Binghamton's second run.

Fred Koenig hit a double to score Paul Leslie and Walt Matthews in the ninth inning to win the game for the White Roses.

Manny Diaz singled Gordie Figgard home from second in the 10th to provide Lancaster's winning run. Lancaster tied the game in the ninth when pinch hitter Bob Rodgers doubled home Jesse Queen, who had singled.

Monties Shell Liberty, 8-2 In Village DUSO

A four-run outburst in the first frame was more than enough as Monticello KO'd Liberty, 8-2 in a Village Duso game on the Monties' field.

It was the second triumph against as many defeats for the Monties while the Redskins suffered their third setback against one victory.

Leo Armstead gave up three hits, while his mates shelled Dane Roosa and Jack Stoddard for 11 safeties. Roosa was derelict in the second inning after five runs had dented the plate.

Gerald McCoy paced the attack with a double and two singles. Jan Novie and John Anthony each had a paid of safeties.

Highland KO's New Paltz 6-2 In UCAL Tilt

Dave Burdash tossed a five hitter yesterday afternoon to lead Highland Central to a 6-2 win over New Paltz on the latter's field in a UCAL encounter.

The Highlanders scored twice in the fifth and three more in the seventh to overcome a 2-1 lead which the homesters had taken in the second frame.

Harry Aldorf went the distance for Coach Joe Roberge's club and was touched for six hits, two by Joe Angellio.

Saugerties High Defeats Red Hook, 6-2, for Eighth Straight

George Neher Leads Hitting With 2 Triples

Saugerties High overcame a two-run first inning with a four run outburst which was enough to beat Red Hook, 6-2 yesterday and run their winning string to eight games for the season.

Barry Wolven got off to a shaky start giving up three hits, good for two tallies, before he found himself and pitched scoreless ball for four more frames before he was relieved by Donny Mormille.

Mormille was inserted to loosen up for a pitching assignment against Arlington in Dutchess County this afternoon.

George Neher sparked the victory with a pair of triples, one of them in the first inning which sent Eddie Riozzi home from first.

The Sawyers came back with two insurance tallies in the fourth, also started by Neher's three-bagger.

Barry Millus started for the Hookers, but gave way to Bob Mowl in the first inning. The Saugerties pitching combination accounted for nine strikeouts, six by Wolven and three by Mormille. Millus fanned three and Mowl two.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Ed Shay of Chester, Pa., was probably the most composed man ever to roll a perfect game in the American Bowling Congress championships.

The 32-year-old design engineer gave the ABC its first 300 game since 1955 Monday and grabbed the singles lead.

Shay hit 300 after games of 210 and 223 to boost his series total to 733. This evicted Don Phelps of Minneapolis, Minn., who had held the singles lead since April 10 with a stunning 727.

Shay said two things swept through his mind.

"I remembered reading somewhere that the odds against a 300 game in the ABC were 360,000 to 1," Shay said. "Then I recalled seeing Junior McMahon roll a perfect game in an exhibition a couple of years ago. When he threw that last ball, everybody in the place jumped on him and started screaming."

Shay said he knew when the last ball left his hand that it would go perfect. "Before I saw it hit the pins, I just stood there and braced myself."

"And sure enough, everybody jumped on me and started screaming."

Shay averages 190 in two leagues. He said he could not see any bright horizons in his bowling future.

"The thrill is come and gone," he said. "I'm afraid I won't bowl as well in the future."

Shay's slam was the only change among the leaders in any of the tourney divisions.

Skyline Shippers Cop Mercantile Pennant

Tenpin history repeated itself in the YMCA Mercantile league last night, when Skyline Shippers, for the second straight year, defeated Mehm's Market

2-1, in the playoff for the league championship.

The casts and the results were the same as a year ago. The triumph was also something of an historic accomplishment for the Shippers, since no team has ever captured two titles in a row since the organization of the Skyline division.

Each team operated with one blind score and Skyline received 30-pin handicap for each game. They won the first set, 625-617, and the second 686-600.

Mehm's took the anti-climatic third game, 722-619.

For the champs, Al Peruso shot 472, Jim Dunn 449, and Don Osterhoudt 434. John Rockefeller fired 532 and Len Ward had 201-511 for Mehm's.

Rocky Nelson On Homer Binge For Toronto

By The Associated Press

Glenn "Rocky" Nelson probably has travelled as many baseball miles from club to club as Barnum and Bailey have travelled circus miles. But the former major league journeyman might have a hard time leaving the fans of Toronto.

Nelson, who won the International League's Most Valuable Player Award twice while with arch-rival Montreal, is on one of the wildest home run binges ever seen in the I.L. Last week he smote five and Monday he banged out three more as the Maple Leafs divided a double-header with Rochester, winning the first game 11-5, losing the second 7-5.

Lead by Four

Montreal extended its I.L. lead to four games over Rochester, knocking off the tail-end Buffalo Bisons 7-5. Miami at Richmond was postponed because of rain. Those were the only scheduled games.

Nelson began Monday's business tied for the league home run lead with Montreal's Bob Lennon, with 10. He now has six in the last five games and needs two in his next two games to break the record set by Tillie Walker of the old Baltimore Orioles in 1926. Walker had seven in as many games.

In addition to his home run prowess, Nelson knocked in seven runs during the doubleheader to up his season total to 30.

Southpaw Swinger

Nelson, a lefthanded hitter, homered twice in the first game, with a man on in the fifth and with two on in the sixth. The latter sparked a six-run spurge by Toronto that sewed up the game.

Ed Blake won his third straight, and Dick Ricketts was the loser. Mike Goliat had a solo home run

Green Hurls 3-Hitter

Hilltop and Chez Emile Win in City Softball

for Toronto, while Lew Morton and Nelson each had three hits.

Nelson's homer with a man on in the last inning of the seven-inning nightcap knocked out starter Bob Kuzava, but Mel Wright came on to preserve the victory. Rochester sent 11 men to bat in the first inning and scored five runs to put away the victory.

Goliat again homered for Toronto in the nightcap. Hy Cohen lost his first of the season.

Babe Birrer picked up his fourth win in five decisions for Montreal and he completely stymied Buffalo. The Bisons collected 11 hits and stranded 14 men, but could offer little else.

Buffalo's Bud Daley allowed nine hits, struck out 10 and walked one in seven innings. But the Bisons committed three errors behind him.

Bob Dolan hit his third home run for the Royals.

Iba coached his brother Clarence, now University of Tulsa cage coach, while at Maryville, Mo., Teachers. His son Moe is now a freshman player and will be on the OSU varsity next season.

Hilltop Rest blanked U. S. Van Lines, 21-0, behind J. Green's three-hitter and Chez Emile topped Pat & George's, 11-5, on P. Butteravolo's five-hitter in Monday's City Softball League action.

Green was something of a one-man show for Hilltop Rest, cracking a single, double and triple in five trips, while checking the Van Lines on three scattered singles. He struck out seven.

Ted Beland picked up a single, double and home run among the 14 Hilltop safeties off Corky (No-Hit) Van Vliet. Leroy Hooker contributed a triple. The winners scored in every inning, including an 8-run cluster in the third inning of the five-inning contest.

Smith Raps Homer

Bud Smith's home run and single paced Chez Emile's 12-hit assault on Frank Couland and Hank Passante. Chezies' nine-run explosion in the fourth inning blew the game wide open.

Saugerties JV's Drub Greenville, Gentner Hit Star

George Gertner and Ted Olsen paced an 18-hit attack for Saugerties High Junior Varsity as they romped to a 22-4 win over Greenville on the latter's field yesterday afternoon.

Four Sawyer hurlers took turns on the hill to set down the Greene County nine with only three hits. Ted Olsen started. He was relieved by Bruce Fraleigh. Bill Eckhoff and Roland Mayone finished up.

Gentner crashed a homer, triple and single. Olsen also had a homer and a single. Tim Conway had three for six.

July 1 Deadline For Farmers on Wheat Allotment

A farmer on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1956, 1957 and 1958 may apply on or before July 1 for a "new farm" wheat acreage allotment for the 1959 winter wheat crop, it was announced today by Chairman John S. Geary of the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Even if wheat was produced on the farm in 1958 the farm is still considered a new wheat farm if it did not have a 1958 allotment and the farmer must apply at the county office as a new producer.

An important requirement for obtaining a new allotment is to file a written application before the July 1 deadline. This application may be made out on forms which can be obtained in person or by mail from the county ASC office, 54 John Street, Kingston.

Geary pointed out that factors considered in determining whether a farmer is eligible for a new farm allotment would include the tillable acreage, type of soil and topography of the farm. The operator's farming system is studied and the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations. He is also asked the reason wheat was not planted on his farm in past years.

Future of Jupiter Still in Question

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile didn't go as far through space Sunday as the Soviet Union's Sputnik III, but it did carry a heavier payload.

The future of the Army missile still was in doubt today, however, despite its apparent conquest of the crucial re-entry problem.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said after arriving at the Missile test center for a brief inspection tour that the Jupiter and its interservice rival, the Air Force Thor, still must prove themselves before a choice can be made.

The Jupiter, which played a key role in launching two Explorer satellites into orbit, pushed a 3,000-pound full-size nose cone into space and back to earth during a highly successful firing. The huge cone was recovered intact in the Atlantic 4½ hours later.

The peak altitude of the 68-foot Jupiter's vertical ascent is classified. The mighty 69-foot bird had to penetrate into space before beginning its ballistic free flight.

Rocket experts estimate that it will be another year before this country launches a satellite the size of Sputnik III.

look in your attic for greater living space!

Live in an attic, and like it! Make an extra bedroom, recreation room, or small, rentable apartment. Attics hold lots of possibilities for more expansive living.

5 WAYS TO MODERNIZE YOUR ATTIC AT LOW COST

1. Add a dormer or two for more space... more light... better ventilation.
2. Fiberglass blanket insulation with the reflective Vapor barrier can easily be applied between rafters and side walls to keep summer heat out and winter heat in.
3. Gypsum Grainboard can build new walls, right over framing. Panels are 48" wide and 7', 8', 9', 10' long. Comes in simulated woodgrain finishes like Knotty Pine, Bleached Walnut and Dark Walnut. Strong, permanent, and non-warping—it's fire-resistant and helps insulate.
4. New, large windows will be easy to operate... let in more light and afford better ventilation. Select double hung casement, awning or gliding windows.
5. Morgan wall Cabinets can be grouped to fit any space. You can plan an endless variety of combinations throughout your home. Start with one wall. Add more as you go along.

EASY MONTHLY TERMS:
up to $3,500 worth of materials and any labor you hire can be paid monthly on easy FHA Terms. On modernization projects costing over $2,000 you can have 5 years to pay.
A $300 attic modernization job costs as little as $9.59 per mo.
